Welcome to Roxbury's Auction No. 162

FOREWORD

The Roxbury's team and I are extremely proud to present our third and final Signature Sale of the year.

This auction follows closely on from a larger than anticipated Auction 161 and, whilst it is perhaps slightly smaller than our last mid year Signature Sale, I believe it literally has something for everyone!

The showstopper of Sale 162 is a long time goal of mine as an auctioneer and, to my knowledge, the first Victoria Cross ever to be offered at public auction in Queensland. It is a true honour to offer this medal, which caps off a vast range of Military Service Medals and militaria.

Again, the remarkable McCullagh Collection of extraordinary early Australian and Tasmanian colonial history demands attention. This time, we delve deeper into the collection with a superb breadth of museum quality convict and colonial artefacts, books, medals and militaria, as well as a continuation of exceptional trade tokens. We are particularly excited by the books and other colonial ephemera showcased across the three days, most of which has outstanding provenance. This has allowed us to further enhance Roxbury's collective knowledge of Australian colonial history, with a particular focus on Tasmania.

While the McCullagh Collection Part II takes centre stage in Auction 162, the remainder of the sale is equally impressive. Highlights include two high grade 1930 pennies and other desirable pre decimal key dates, Sydney Mint Type I and II half sovereigns, and another impressive selection of ancient and world coins. In fact, scarce and desirable items appear across literally all of our auction categories, with particularly strong general antique and antique jewellery offerings this time around.

I would like to thank our dedicated Roxbury's team, our consignors, and all those who will be bidding. We look forward to an energetic few days in mid October, with strong bidding and pleasing results for everyone involved.

Good luck with your bidding!

The central well features a meticulously hand-painted Neoclassical allegorical scene depicting three figures, a standing gentleman, a seated gentleman, and a seated lady, convening before a classical stone obelisk monument set within an idealised landscape. The expansive rim features a complex, formal decorative surround composed of structured panels. These panels alternate between vibrant, naturalistic arrangements of European fruits and finely detailed botanical floral bouquets, framed by rich, unworn gilt highlights. Excellent antique condition. The enamel pigments remain exceptionally vibrant, and the extensive gilding shows no signs of notable wear or handling rub. Free from chips, cracks, hairline fractures, or professional restoration.

Lot 154 Batman Deed - Framed Copy, (1835) - C.1966
VF $500 - $1000

Framed print of the Batman Deed dated 1835, possibly a printed copy of the Batman Deed made in 1966 from the original once held by Dame Mabel Brookes and now held by the National Museum of Australia, size 60cm wide x 32cm high, black ink on paper, with handwritten pencil annotation lower right, R/W 8413 SL, very fine.

Side note: *In 1835 an Association was formed in Tasmania for the purpose of colonizing Port Phillip. John Batman left Launceston in the interests of this Association in May 1835, and crossed over to Port Phillip, where he arranged with eight aboriginal elders to purchase some 600,000 acres of land, including the sites of Melbourne and Geelong. Formal deeds, executed in triplicate, were then 'signed, sealed and delivered", the so-called signatures of the aboriginal elders being private marks of the tribe. The signing and delivery of these documents took place, on the banks of a tributary of the Yarra, on 6th June 1835. Unfortunately for Batman and his party, these interesting relics of the foundation of the Colony were not held valid as legal documents.

The original Batman Deed is of enormous significance to the history of the European settlement of Victoria. The three 'original' copies, made in 1835, are in public collections, the British Museum, the National Museum of Australia, and the State Library of Victoria.

Dame Mabel Brookes became a collector of Australiana in the 1930s, and 'discovered' a third copy of the Batman Deed in the papers of the Port Phillip Association, held in the offices of a Geelong lawyer. She acquired this copy, framed it and kept in on display in her home. In 1968 she sold the deed and it ended up in the National Museum of Australia. However before it was sold, she had 30 copies made, which she presented to friends and people she thought might be interested. |Museums Victoria Collections.*

Lot 263 The Town & Country Magazine OR Universal Repository of Knowledge, Instruction & Entertainment , 1774 - 1777
gVF $600 - $1200

January 1774, January, March, April, June, August & Supplement 1777, size 21.8cm x 12.8cm, without cover, (7), black ink on laid paper, issues contain many dispatches mentioning the American War of Independence, all with some foxing but remarkably clean for age, good very fine.

Side note: The Town and Country Magazine, or Universal Repository of Knowledge, Instruction, and Entertainment was a prominent 18th-century British monthly periodical, founded and primarily edited by Archibald Hamilton. It was published in London between January 1769 and August 1795 and offered a wide-ranging mix of society news, political commentary, and cultural features. It was renowned for its detailed engraved portraits and society gossip, most notably its popular, thinly-veiled Tête-à-Tête biographical sketches which paired prominent figures in scandalous affairs.

Lot 264 Solitude, Written Originally By J.G Zimmerman, 1799
Poor - F $40 - $80

Early English translation, Vol. 1. hardcover in full leather with gilded titled to spine, published in London and printed for Vernor & Hood, J. Cuthell, J. Walker, Lackington, Allen, And Co. J. Nunn, Ogilvy And Son, Darton And Harvey, W. Otridge And Son, And R. Lea. 1799, with hand written name in ink to endcover, C Curling, significant wear to cover with front detached board, p.310 with plates, pages rippled with heavy foxing to peripheries, poor or slightly better.

Side note: An influential late-18th-century philosophical treatise written by the Swiss physician and philosopher Johann Georg Zimmermann. The book explores the psychological, emotional, and spiritual impacts of solitude on the human mind. Zimmermann argues that strategic, occasional retirement from the fast-paced nature of society is vital for intellectual growth, true happiness, creativity, and self-discovery. The work was so widely celebrated in its era that Empress Catherine the Great of Russia personally sent Zimmermann a diamond ring to thank him for its insights.

Lot 265 An Account of a Voyage to New South Wales by George Barrington, 1803
G $100 - $200

M. Jones first edition, full leather with gilt edges and title to spine, marbled endpapers, London. Printed for M. Jones, No.1 Paternoster Row. 1803, with owner's ink signature above preface, with portrait, title vignette and hand coloured plate between p.144 & 145, other plates & fold-out map missing, 467pp. plus index, very well worn cover with loose front cover and delaminated spine facing, with numerous Royal Yacht Club Tasmania modern stamps to first few pages, with aged toned pages and moderate foxing limited to back of book, good, (Ferguson 367).

Lot 266 The Annual Review and History of Literature (Volume IV) - Tuckey's Voyage Text Block, 1806
VG - FN $150 - $300

Essay style, summary text block of Tuckey's Voyage, excerpted from The Annual Review and History of Literature (Volume IV), edited by Arthur Aikin and published in 1806, the text block pages are professionally bound in tan leather & green cloth with gilded title to spine & floral end papers, the pages run seamlessly from page 1 to page 20 across signatures B, (page 1), C, (page 9) and D (page 17), cover without signs of wear, the pages are firm and show some light toning and small creases to the lower right corner, very good to fine.

Side note: The Annual Review was unique for providing deep, highly intellectual analyses rather than simple summaries and, as such, Aikin hired top academic minds to write these essays. The chapters on travel, geography, and navigation in Volume IV were largely curated and reviewed by his close circle, which regularly included legendary literary and political figures like Robert Southey. Early accounts of the Port Phillip settlement (the future site of Melbourne) and early New South Wales are intensely collected in Australia. Even though it is an extract from Arthur Aikin's Annual Review, regional historians and institutional libraries value it because it captures exactly how the British public and intellectual elite first reacted to Tuckey's historic voyage.

Lot 267 The Poetical Epitome; Or, Extracts, Elegant, Instructive, and Entertaining by Vicesimus Knox, 1807
Poor $150 - $300

Abridged London edition produced by a consortium of British publishers, half-leather with marbled boards, with previous owner's signature in ink above preface 'John Meredith' (1821 Tasmanian pioneer John Meredith, son of James and Sarah Meredith and cousin to the prominent settler George Meredith), cover detached from spine, text block intact, 410pp., pages aged toned with light to medium foxing throughout, poor.

Side note: John Meredith was a member of the famous Meredith family who arrived in Hobart in March 1821 and successfully petitioned for massive land grants in Swanport and Jericho. Meredith famously returned to England in 1822, leaving his Tasmanian land in the care of his cousin, George.

Lot 268 An Essay on Medals by John Pinkerton, 1808
G - VG $200 - $400

Lot 271 The Holy Bible Containing The Old And New Testaments, 1822
G $1500 - $3000

Tasmanian colonial history, associated copy, stereotype edition, Oxford: printed at the Clarendon Press, by Samuel Collingwood and CO., printers to the University; For The British and Foreign Bible Society, full leather binding, with binders ticket for Samuel Aug. Bielefeld, 4 Princes Street, Lincoln's Inn Fields, with endpapers handwritten ink inscriptions for members of the Davidson family from 1788-1919, with rear endpaper inscription in ink 'FROM / REV. R KNOPWOOD / AM / MRS DAVIDSON / 1829 / 8 November / 1829 /,1271pp. cover very worn but intact, text block & binding intact with aged toned pages with some folds, annotations & foxing, good.

Side note 1: The Reverend Robert Knopwood (1763–1838): Arriving in February 1804 with Lieutenant-Colonel David Collins, Knopwood was the first commissioned chaplain of Van Diemen's Land (modern-day Tasmania). For 17 years, he was the sole clergyman for the entire island, serving also as a magistrate. He is widely known for his extensive personal diaries, which provide a vital record of early Hobart life.

Side note 2: The Inscription Date (1829): This date is historically significant. Knopwood officially retired from his primary Hobart chaplaincy in 1823 due to failing eyesight and health, moving across the Derwent River to Rokeby. By November 1829, he was living out his senior years in the colony, making this Bible a personal gift from his later life.

Lot 272 A Geographical, Historical and Topographical Description of Van Diemen's Land by George William Evans, 1822
G - VG $1200 - $1800

A Geographical, Historical and Topographical Description of Van Diemen's Land, with important Hints to Emigrants, and Useful Information Respecting The Application for Grants of Land; together with A List of the Most Necessary Articles for Persons to take out, Embellished by A Correct View of Hobart Town; Also, A Large Chart of the Island, thirty inches by twenty-four, with the Surroundings of the Harbours and Rivers, and in which the various grants of land are accurately laid down, by George William Evans, Surveyor General of the Colony, To which are added an Abstract from the General Muster-books for the years 1819 and 1820, and a list of the Civil Establishment, London: printed for John Souter, 73, St. Paul's Church-Yard; by J. and C. Adlard, 23 Bartholomew Close. 1822, 140pp., in grey-brown cards with small printed title to spine, with Hobart Town illustration plate (showing moderate foxing & some edge folds) but without separate map, modern pencil notes and ink stamp to endpapers, cover with wear to edges and spine, endpapers split, binding tight, pages with some firm and moderate foxing, good to very good, scarce example of early colonial printing.

Lot 273 An Account of the Colony of Van Diemen's Land by Edward Curr, 1824
G - VG $400 - $800

First edition, contemporary half-calf with marbled boards, spine title-label and gilt rules, London: George Cowie and Co., 31, Poultry, 1824, 207pp., the extremities rubbed, the front free endpaper loose, contemporary owner's signature running vertically along inner margin of title-page, another owner's small name-plate (Henry Grant) on the front paste down, binding remains tight, pages firm with moderate foxing throughout, good to very good, with original ticket.

Side note: Possibly Henry Grant, Esq, second son of the late Charles Grant, who was engineer to the Tasmanian Main Line Railway Co. and arrived from London in July 1872 to superintend construction of the line between Hobart and Launceston. After completion of the railway in 1876 he served as general manager until the line's purchase by the government in 1890.

Lot 274 Ross's Hobart Town Almanack, 1829

Inaugural first edition in later (C.1948) faded green cloth with illegible handwritten title to spine (except 1829), fixed endpaper with binders ticket for Messrs BerkelouW, title page missing, contents page 1-164, complete with Mount Nelson signals page 78, without engravings, covers worn & faded, first couple of pages loose, binding visible, pages aged toned with final pages showing moisture toning and frayed edges, fine to good.

Side note: An interesting story of a survived colonial reference work, likely purchased in Hobart in 1829 as a standard, working-tier text block (which explains why the typeset Mount Nelson signals are present, but the artistic landscape plates are not). After a century of hard, utilitarian pocket use that claimed its original soft covers and title page, the premium Berkelouw firm was engaged to rebind it into the protective green cloth seen today, due to its immense historical scarcity.

Lot 275 History of Van Diemen's Land by James Bischoff, ESQ, 1832
G $400 - $600

First edition, Sketch of the History of Van Diemen's Land, Illustrated by a Map of the Island, And An Account of the Van Diemen's Land Company, by James Bischoff, ESQ, published in London: John Richardson, Royal Exchange. 1832, in brown boards with green cloth spine and library title, ex Royal Society of Tasmania library with numerous ink stamps to end papers and first few pages, well worn cover with reasonably tight binding, intact bright map with firm aged pages showing toned edges, good.

Lot 276 The Van Diemen's Land Almanac for the Year , 1832
VG $300 - $600

Original copy, Hobart Town, edited & printed by H. Melville, Elizabeth Street, later binding in half-calfskin with marbled boards, with ex libris bookplate for G. & N. Ingleton and binders ticket for D.S. Murray P/L, Sydney, includes coloured plate of signals, pp.268, complete, some pages photocopied, extremities showing a little wear, pages aged toned but generally firm & clean, very good or slightly better.

Lot 277 Van Diemen's Land; Comprehending a Variety of Statistical and Other Information by Henry Melville, 1833
G - VG $1200 - $2000

Van Diemen's Land; Comprehending a Variety of Statistical and Other Information, Likely to be Interesting to the Emigrant, as well as to the General Reader, published by Henry Melville, Hobart Town, Van Diemen's Land and Smith, Elder & Co, London, 1833., with pencil reference notes to endpapers, brown cloth hardcover with small printed title ticket to spine, cover showing fading, stains and scuffs, corners rounded, contents and part preface (4) pages detached from spine, endpapers with splits otherwise tightly bound, paper firm with foxing generally to peripheries and edges, good to very good, very scarce example of early colonial printing, with original ticket, (Ferguson 1676).

Side note 1: Henry Saxelby Melville (1799–1873) was one of the most influential and fiercely independent figures in early Australian printing and journalism. As the editor and owner of major colonial newspapers like the Colonial Times and The Tasmanian, Melville was a vocal, persistent critic of Lieutenant-Governor George Arthur's autocratic governance. Shortly after publishing this 1833 handbook, Melville's critical reporting landed him in a Hobart prison in 1835 for contempt of court. He famously used his jail time to pen his next major work, The History of the Island of Van Diemen's Land (1835), which had to be smuggled out of the colony to London to bypass local censorship.

Side note 2: The book was structurally designed as a comprehensive handbook to introduce the British public, (specifically prospective free settlers), to the geography, policy, and reality of the expanding penal colony. Its content covers, early history & discovery, internal colonial policy, statistical data and emigrant guidance.

Lot 278 The Rise, Progress, And Present State of Van Dieman's Land by Henry Walter Parker Esq, 1833
VG $600 - $1200

Lot 282 Cookson Family Journals & Sketchbooks, 1835 - 1942
VG - gF $2000 - $4000

Collection of journals & sketchbook belonging to the family of Major-General George Cookson (1760–1835) a distinguished British Army officer who spent nearly his entire career in the Royal Regiment of Artillery. He served across multiple continents during the French Revolutionary and Napoleonic Wars, culminating in his rise to high command, the first journal is dated 1835 (the year of Major General Cookson's death) and signed by his wife Margaret Cookson (nee Remington) 1785-1873 and includes writings & poems, watercolour & pencil sketches (quite accomplished) and a series of Indian/Asian mica prints (11) which would have been compiled during the early period of mourning her husband, the second journal (with separated front cover) is first dated 1852 and is signed by his daughter in law, Laura Cookson (nee Whicher) who married his younger son, Major-General George Remington Cookson (1819–1888), in September 1851, this journal contains writings, sketches, cuttings & includes a family group photograph towards the rear, the third journal is first dated 1897 and signed W.W.C., William Whicher Cookson, the son of George & Laura Cookson and the Major-Generals nephew, (William was a notable figure, an Oxford-educated military officer (Royal Artillery, like his grandfather) and a cricketer who played for Sussex,), this final journal is in album form and contains some quite accomplished pencil, ink and watercolour sketches (likely also inclusions by other hands, as was typical of the time), interestingly one of the last dated sketches is of Greens Beach Tasmania 1943, a charming collection of journals with intertwined family history, also including a small film negatives album and 100 Famous Paintings Part 18 by Cassell & Company Limited which includes four colour plates and a Colmans Mustard/Daimler advertising page at the rear, both also possibly related to the journals.

Lot 283 Waverley Novels - Rob Roy.-I. & II., 1836
G - VG $60 - $120

Complete set of two, leather bound and marbled faced hardback covers with gilded lettering to spine, published by Fisher, Son & Co, London; and Quai Des Grands Augustins, Paris, 1836, without illustrations, well thumbed with worn covers, some foxing and exposed binding in places, good or slightly better.

Lot 284 The Van Diemen's Land Annual, 1836
VG $800 - $1200

Original copy, Hobart Town, edited & printed by H. Melville, Elizabeth Street, later binding in crimson calfskin with marbled boards and V.D.L. ALAMACK (sic) 1836 title to spine, from page 1. To which is added, The History of the Island of Van Diemen's Land From The Year 1824 to1835 inclusive, also, A Few Words On Prison Discipline, with ex libris bookplate for Peter Benson Walker, pp.276, including coloured Mulgrave Battery signals, complete, with facsimile insertions (p.41-54, p.83-86 & p.266), extremities showing a little wear, pages aged toned but generally firm with some foxing, very good or slightly better, (Ferguson 2208).

Lot 285 The Van Diemen's Land Annual, 1836
VG $400 - $800

To which is added, The History of the Island of Van Diemen's Land From The Year 1824 to1835 inclusive, also, A Few Words On Prison Discipline, with notes in ink to title page, pp.266, lacks last 10pp. of 'Prison Discipline', includes coloured Mulgrave Battery signals, covers showing shelf wear, endpapers firm & text block tight, pages aged toned with some foxing, very good, (Ferguson 2208).

Lot 286 The Christian Philosopher Or The Connexion of Science And Philosophy With Religion by Thomas Dick, 1837
G $60 - $120

Seventh edition, in half-leather with marbled boards and gilded title to spine, published, Glasgow, William Collins, 155 Ingram Street, 1837, front and back covers a little loose, front cover with small cracks top & bottom, otherwise tightly bound, pages aged with foxing to end pages and peripheries, nearly good.

Lot 287 Elliston's Hobart Town Almanack and (Ross') Van Diemen's Land, Annual, 1837
G - VG $400 - $800

Original copy, Van Diemen's Land, Hobart Town: Printed by William Gore Elliston, plain brown cloth with small printed title to spine, 173pp. plus advertisements, hand coloured plate opposite title page, with two folding maps, the covers faded and soiled with damp spots & shelf wear, upper joint starting at a couple of points, spine label cracked and slightly chipped, uncut: hinges starting, early owner inscription on upper free endpaper, plus inked signature (by another member of the same family) below text just before first map and a minor inked correction to the text p.138, long closed tear form fore-edge into last preliminary page, a few small edge splits or chips, a little light foxing and toning, the last few leaves lightly damp toned, good to very good, with Kay Craddock ticket, (Ferguson 2257).

Lot 288 Franklin, Convict Discipline in Van Diemen's Land, 1838
G - VG $300 - $500

Copy of a Despatch from Lieut-Governor Sir John Franklin, To Lord Glenelg, Dated 7 October 1837, Relative To The Present System of Convict Discipline in Van Diemen's Land, (Presented to Parliament by Her Majesty's Command), Ordered by the House of Commons, to be Printed, 26 April 1838. definitive London text, later library hardcover in blue cloth with gilded title to cover, plain (white) endpapers, pp.186, cover faded at margins & spine with decent title, binding remains tight, pages firm but toned, with foxing to edges and margins, good to very good, a highly significant foundational text in Australian penal history.

Side note 1: This is the original British House of Commons printing from April 1838, in a custom library or private collectors binding. When the colony realized how vital this report was, a secondary, highly condensed version (110pp.) was quickly reprinted locally in Hobart, by William Gore Elliston later that year. The 186-page London edition is the definitive text.

Side note 2: The text outlines the structural breakdown of the 'Assignment System' (where convicts were leased out as free labor to settlers). It was the primary catalyst that forced the British Government to transition to the strict, government-run 'Probation System' in the 1840s.

First edition octavo, 2 volumes bound in 1 with continuous pagination, re-backed with the original spine laid down in black cloth hardcover with small title to spine, 434pp., Hobart Town, Van Diemen's Land: printed by William Pratt, 67, Elizabeth Street; Published by S.A. Tegg, 39 1/2, Elizabeth Street, 1842. with handwritten notes & ink stamp to endpapers, cover showing shelf wear, binding a little loose, pages firm but toned with some moderate to heavier foxing, good, with original receipt dated 22.3.11.

Side note: David Burn (1798–1875) was a Scottish-born settler who emigrated to Tasmania in 1826. He was a member of the Dramatic Authors' Society and actively sought to bring formal theater and dramatic literature to the early Australian colonies. Volume I features a compilation of epistles, short lyric poetry ("fugitive pieces"), and dramatic plays written in verse format. . The book holds the distinction of containing the first volume of plays in verse published in Australia, as well as being the third volume of verse ever published in Tasmania. While the collection itself is a milestone in Australian publishing history, the Australian Dictionary of Biography notes that the verse pieces were of modest literary quality. Burn is arguably better remembered for writing The Bushrangers (1829), the very first Australian drama ever performed on a stage, though it was omitted from this specific collection and remained mostly unpublished.

Lot 298 Letters from Van Dieman's Land, Written During Four Years Imprisonment for Political Offences Committed in Upper Canada by Benjamin Wait, 1843
G - VG $300 - $500

First edition, hardcover in half-leather with marbled boards and gilded title to spine, published, Buffalo: A.W. Wilgus. 1843, cover worn at usual touchpoints, binding tight with light to medium foxing to pages, with portrait engraving (showing foxing) and folding map at rear (with nibbled edges), good or better.

Side note: Published in 1843, Letters from Van Dieman's Land is a first hand historical account by Benjamin Wait, detailing his imprisonment and escape from the British penal colony of Van Dieman's Land (now Tasmania) after participating in the Upper Canada Rebellion of 1837–1838. Benjamin Wait (1813–1895) was a Canadian rebel and surveyor who fought alongside William Lyon Mackenzie to establish a democratic government in Upper Canada. After engaging in armed insurrection, Wait was captured, tried, and initially sentenced to death. His sentence was commuted to 'transportation' (exile and forced labor) to a penal colony. The 1843 first edition also contains written contributions from his wife, Maria Wait. She traveled extensively to petition British authorities and successfully secured his release, however, Benjamin Wait did not wait for the end of his term; he escaped the Australian penal colony and successfully fled to the United States, where he reunited with his wife.

Lot 299 The Convict Ship; A Narrative by Colin Arrott Browning, M.D., 1844
G - VG $200 - $500

First edition, original binding hardcover in embossed brown cloth with gilded title & embellishments to spine, published in London by Smith Elder & Co., 65 Cornhill, 1844. cover faded but showing light wear for age, binding a little exposed at end covers, pages aged but still crisp and showing foxing to edges, good to very good, with original ticket.

Side note: An influential 1844 historical text written by Royal Navy surgeon Dr Colin Arrott Browning, the book documents his first hand experiences managing 264 convicts during their voyage to the penal colony of Van Diemen's Land (Tasmania). Dr. Browning argues passionately that the reformation of criminals is far more effective when rooted in Christian education, kindness, and moral discipline rather than physical brutality or strict penal isolation. Rather than keeping prisoners locked away, Browning established an organized school system on deck. Convicts who could read were assigned to teach illiterate prisoners how to read and write using the Bible as the primary text. As a Naval Surgeon Superintendent, Browning viewed the physical and mental health of prisoners as interconnected. He believed that providing intellectual and spiritual stimulation directly reduced onboard sickness and unrest.

Lot 300 Van Diemen's Land Royal Kalendar, Colonial Register, And Almanack, compiled by James Wood, 1848

Lot 303 My Home in Tasmania Vol. I & Vol. II., by Louisa Anne Meredith, 1852
G $150 - $300

First edition set with ornate embossed green hardback cover, published in London: John Murray, Albemarle Street, 1852, both covers showing shelf & handling wear with usual faded spines, Vol. I. with loose first few pages and light foxing, Vol. II. with looser spine and showing more significant wear, pages remain crisp with foxing generally to page edges, good.

Side note: The work serves as a critical historical record of 19th-century Van Diemen's Land (Tasmania), blending personal narrative with rich environmental and social analysis. Volume I: Journey and Early Impressions, focuses on Meredith's voyage to the colony alongside her husband, Charles, and her initial observations of local society. She provides candid, often witty assessments of 'polite society,' colonial politics, and the complex dynamics surrounding the convict and ex-convict populations. Volume II: Domestic Life and Natural History, shifts toward local anecdotes, detailing her efforts to establish a home, garden, and farm in a treacherous landscape. It is heavily defined by her encounters with native wildlife, including keeping a pet opossum and recounting a hunting party's encounter with a Tasmanian tiger, as well as her observations on local industry and trade.

G $150 - $300

First edition set with ornate embossed green hardback cover, published in London: John Murray, Albemarle Street, 1852, both covers showing shelf & handling wear with faded/worn spines, Vol. I. with loose first few pages and foxing/spots to some pages, Vol. II. with stronger cover colour, looser spine and lighter foxing to pages, good.

Lot 308 Nine Years in Australia, by Louisa Anne Meredith, 1853
G $100 - $200

Original American edition with ornate embossed blue hardback cover & spine with gilded lettering, published in New York by Bunce and Brother, 134 Nassau Street, 1853, usual faded spine with worn shelf contact points, binding somewhat exposed inside and pages crisp but with moderate to heavy foxing marks to most pages, good.

Side note: This book is the American edition of My Home in Tasmania Vol. I & Vol. II, published one year earlier in 1852.

Lot 309 IND'S Little Table Book, Tasmania, 1854
G $400 - $600

Printed and published at Home's Academy, 6pp. plus cover, cover with later corner hinge repair, pages loose but intact, aged toned with foxing around binding holes, some pages slightly nibbled, good, scarce due to inherent frailty.

Side note: Home's Academy was a prominent private school located on Brisbane Street in Launceston, Tasmania. It held public exams and was a well-known institution for local families in the mid-1850s. Ind's Little Table Book was not printed by a large commercial press like Walch's, it was specifically commissioned or printed locally at the school's direction to teach arithmetic and multiplication to the children attending Home's Academy in 1854.

Lot 310 Responsible Ministries for the Australian Colonies by H.S. Chapman, 1854
VG - FN $400 - $700

First edition pamphlet rebound in black & green half-leather and cloth hardcover book with gilded title to cover, printed and published in Tasmania by Pratt & Son, Elizabeth Street, Hobart Town, 1854, with ex libris bookplate to endpapers for Peter Benson Walker, lightly handled with some very minor wear to corners, original pamphlet with some light to medium foxing, age toning and slightly nibbled corners, p.21-28 are detached from binding, very good or slightly better.

Side note 1: Parliamentary Government; or, Responsible Ministries for the Australian Colonies is a foundational 1854 political pamphlet written by lawyer and politician Henry Samuel Chapman. It advocated for shifting colonial governance from autocratic rule to a democratic system of responsible ministries. During a journey to England in 1852 after resigning as Colonial Secretary of Van Diemen's Land (Tasmania), Chapman authored this publication to outline how the Australian colonies could transition to elected cabinets accountable to local parliaments, as per the British Westminster system. The pamphlet provided a clear roadmap for establishing responsible self-government in the Australian colonies.

Side note 2: Peter Benson Walker was a prominent Hobart lawyer, local historian, and Liberal politician who served in the Tasmanian House of Assembly. He belonged to the historic Walker family of Tasmania, a lineage deeply intertwined with the colony's intellectual, legal, and political history. Notably, his ancestor George Washington Walker co-founded the Friends' School in Hobart, and his relative James Backhouse Walker was a foundational figure at the University of Tasmania.

Lot 311 The Works of John Bunyan Vol. I, Vol. II. & Vol. III. edited by George Offor, 1855-56
VG $150 - $300

Lot 312 The Ancient Domestic Architecture of Edinburgh, To Lord Talbot De Malahide, These Two Papers Read Before the Archeological Institute in Edinburgh by Robert Chambers, 1856
Poor - F $40 - $80

Full leather binding, with detached (but included) covers with ornate & gilded borders, text block with fixed endpapers, pages firm and age toned, poor to fair.

Side note: A pair of historically significant papers written by the Scottish publisher and antiquarian Robert Chambers. They were presented at the Archaeological Institute (now the Royal Archaeological Institute) during their annual meeting in Edinburgh in July 1856. The two interconnected papers detailed the historical state of Edinburgh's Old Town before and during the Renaissance. The first focused on the city's residential layout, while the second focused specifically on the architectural state of Edinburgh Castle prior to the major Siege of 1573. The work was dedicated to James Talbot, 3rd Baron Talbot de Malahide, who served as the President of the Archaeological Institute at the time.

Lot 313 Loved, And Lost! The True Story of a Short Life, by Louisa Anne Meredith, 1860
VG $400 - $800

First edition with highly ornate, heavily gilded dark green cloth hardback cover, publishers listed as, London: Day and Son, Lithographers to the Queen, George Robertson, Melbourne and Sydney, W.C. Rigby, Adelaide, Walch & Sons, Hobart and Launceston, remains tightly bound with the first few pages a little loose, cover/spine showing some fading and shelf wear but ornate design complete, pages crisp with varying degrees of light to moderate foxing, very good, scarcer version with Australian distributors listed.

Side note: Loved, and Lost! The True Story of a Short Life is an elegant, 19th-century book written and illustrated by the prominent Anglo-Australian artist and author Louisa Anne Meredith (often credited as L.A. Meredith or Mrs. Charles Meredith). Originally published in 1860, the book is a uniquely sentimental historical artifact written entirely in 'gossip verse'. It functions as a deeply emotional memoir tracking the author's personal experiences, her marriage, and the tragic early loss of her husband, Charles Meredith. The text provides a rare, poetic look into colonial life in Tasmania during the 1800s, where she and her husband settled. Alongside the text, the book features detailed botanical and environmental illustrations, heavily inspired by naturalists of the era.

Lot 314 Over The Straits, by Louisa Anne Meredith, 1861

Tasmania Facsimile Editions No.1 by Melanie Publications, 28 Elphinstone Road, Hobart, Tasmania, 7000, hardcover in brown embossed clay cloth with black lettering, high quality edition in near fine condition, minor wear to corners and top of spine, light foxing to page edges, fold-out map extremely lightly handled.

Lot 341 Victoria, The Jubilee History of Tasmania Vol. 1 & 2, by T.W.H. Leavitt, 1887
VG $300 - $500

Volume 1 & 2 complete, hardback in maroon/crimson half-morocco leather with gilt (gold) lettering & embellishments, first three pages of Vol 1. loose and Vol 2. cover detached from binding, showing expected wear at shelf touch-points and some foxing generally at the periphery of the volumes, with handwritten pencil note to the first page of Vol. 2, 'James Craig Paton 'Craiglie', very good or slightly better.

Side note: The Jubilee History of Tasmania, 1887, is a comprehensive two-volume historical and biographical reference compiled by Thaddeus W.H. Leavitt with contributions from James Fenton & published by Wells and Leavitt, Melbourne. Produced as a Queen Victoria Jubilee souvenir, it spans nearly 1,000 pages and serves as a highly valued resource for Australian social history and genealogy. The publication reaches well beyond just Tasmania to encompass a broad scope including, integration of the early history of Victoria with the Tasmanian narrative, details the indigenous peoples, Dutch East India Company exploration, land grants, churches, newspapers, and industries like wool, features a substantial collection of Australian Representative Men, highlighting prominent figures of the era and is full of historical drawings & portrait plates.

Lot 342 The Chronicles of Early Melbourne 1835-1851, Vol. I., Garryowen, 1888
G $40 - $80

Centennial Edition, Vol. I with portraits and illustrations, printed and published in Melbourne: by Fergusson and Mitchell, Collins Street, 1888, full leather hardcover with gilded titles and decoration to cover & spine, with a worn & slightly loose cover, some foxing, stamped 'The Library L.C.G.S. (Launceston Church Grammar School) The L.S Bruce Request', good.

Lot 343 Australian Men of Mark 1788-1888, Vol. 1. & Vol. 2., 1889
G $60 - $120

First edition volume 1. & 2. complete, hardback in crimson leather with gilt (gold) lettering, embellishments and Phillip/Carrington cameos on cover, showing significant wear to covers and spines but with intact binding, pages aged with varying degrees of foxing but still crisp, good.

Side note: Australian Men of Mark (1788–1888) is a renowned Centennial biographical publication edited by Irish-born barrister Everard Digby and published by Charles F. Maxwell, to commemorate Australia's first 100 years of European settlement. The publication was designed as an extensive historical record of the social, economic, and political evolution of the Australian colonies. Instead of focusing solely on the ruling elite, Digby chose a varied selection of notable figures from all walks of colonial life, including pastoralists, merchants, politicians, capitalists, union leaders, religious ministers, and pioneer immigrants.

Lot 344 The Year-Book of Australia, 1889

Side note: The Honorable Alfred Thomas Pillinger (1839–1898) was a prominent 19th-century Tasmanian politician, landholder, and Minister of the Crown. He is best known for serving as the Minister of Lands and Works in the House of Assembly and for the ghost town of Pillinger, Tasmania, which was named in his honor.

Lot 350 The Wild West of Tasmania (Being a Description of the Silver Fields of Zeehan & Dundas) by Wilberton Tilley, 1891
G - VG $200 - $400

First edition, hardcover with light blue binding and illustrated front cover with Evershed Bros. advertisement to rear cover, published by Evershed Bros., Publishers, Zeehan & Dundas, MDCCCXCI (1891). E.A. Petherick & Co. Melbourne, Sydney, Adelaide, handwritten ink inscription inside front cover, J.S. LUCKMAN / 36 CLARE ST / NEW TOWN / HOBART /, some shelf wear & toning to cover with bright ink, binding remains tight with firm pages and foxing limited to spotting on early pages and peripheries overall, good or slightly better, appears to be scare in condition, with original tickets.

Side note: Wilberton Tilley was a resident of Zeehan and a former special reporter for the Launceston Examiner. His firsthand observations and interviews with the 'oldest inhabitants' provide an engaging, authentic look at the pioneers who built the region. The book details the sudden transformation of a harsh, unpopulated wilderness into a bustling economic hub following Frank Long's 1882 discovery of silver-lead ore (galena) near Mount Zeehan.

Lot 351 Waratah Rhymes by Louisa Anne Meredith, 1891
G - VG $500 - $800

Updated version of Grandmamma's Verse-Book, published in London: Vincent Brooks, Day & Son, Gate Street, Lincoln's Inn Fields., 1891, hardcover with light green binding and red & green Waratah illustration and lettering, cover heavily worn with intact spine, binding remains quite tight but is visible within pages, foxing is light with crisp pages, good to very good.

Lot 352 Waratah Rhymes by Louisa Anne Meredith, 1891
VG $500 - $1000

Updated version of Grandmamma's Verse-Book, published in London: Vincent Brooks, Day & Son, Gate Street, Lincoln's Inn Fields., 1891, hardcover with light green binding and red & green Waratah illustration and lettering, showing wear at shelf touchpoints and corners, pages quite crisp and relatively foxing free, very good.

Side note: Published in London by Vincent Brooks, Day & Son, it marked the very first time these specific poems, which originally appeared in her earlier compilation Grandmamma's Verse-book for Young Australia, were printed as a standalone volume with dedicated illustrations. It represents a critical milestone in colonial children's literature, intentionally shifting away from traditional European backdrops to celebrate uniquely Australian flora and fauna, such as bowerbirds, gum trees, and the native waratah. The book features beautiful photo-etched plates created by Meredith herself, alongside noted artists Emma Minnie Boyd and Mr. R. André.

Lot 353 Walch's Handbook of Gardening for Tasmania, 1892
G - VG $120 - $240

Side note: The original owner of this book was a an early pioneer of the Ulverstone waterfront, located on the North-West coast of Tasmania and his obituary from the Advocate, dated Tuesday 28 April 1942 is of interest;

Late Mr. T. Horsham, Ulverstone

The death of Mr. Thos. Horsham removes one of the very early pioneers of the Ulverstone waterfront. For many years he took an active part in affairs connected with the port, and was mainly responsible for the inauguration of the Ulverstone Regatta, which was looked upon for many years as a major event, on the Coast. His knowledge of the Leven River was probably above that of any living man, and he was known locally as the 'King of the Leven.' His life was spent in seafaring and boatbuilding, one of his boats Belle, winning many races on the Coast. His pleasure trips up the river on week-ends and holidays were looked forward to by many, and his cheery dis position made him a favourite with all. The 'King of the River' has gone to his rest, but his many acts of kindness, his old fashioned courtesy and ready wit will long be remembered.

Lot 417 France, Embroidered Silk, 1916 - 1918
VF - EF $120 - $200

(10) with Christmas (4), Souvenir (2), Birthday & General (3) themes, four with smaller cards in front pocket, one unused, one (My Thoughts Are For You) mentions "they were the first (letters, received) after coming out of the Somme Battle" and is dated October 17th, somewhere in France; silk embroidery in excellent condition with outstanding colour retention on all cards, showing varying degrees of foxing affecting paper & silk background, all margins generally intact, with a few dog eared corners and slight tears.

Side note: *Woven silk postcards were first produced in Krefeld, Germany in 1898 as a combination of printed postcards and large woven silk pictures, known as Stevengraphs. The early cards were woven on machines. Being machine made, the woven cards always maintained a high standard. Embroidered silk postcards were first made in 1900 for the Paris Exposition. The popularity of silk postcards peaked during the First World War 1914-1918. A thriving cottage industry began around 1915 and the quality of the early silks was quite high. However later, to satisfy demand, the workmanship was often not quite as high. Postcard companies began to employ women to produce silks on a rough assembly line basis. The cards were generally hand embroidered on strips of silk mesh with as many as 25 on a strip. They were mostly embroidered by French women in their homes and then sent to the factories for cutting and mounting on postcards. Some postcards were made with little envelopes which could contain a smaller card with a sentimental message. Production continued steadily through World War I, declining substantially in 1919, until ending around 1923. An estimated 10,000,000 hand made cards were produced from 1915 to 1919. Several themes became popular. The main themes were: Family; Remembrance; Liberty; Unity; Souvenirs of France and Belgium; Souvenirs of the war; Regimental badges and crests. *Australian War Memorial collection.

COLONIAL EPHEMERA

Lot 418 Convict Book (An Apology for the Bible, by Richard Watson) Remnants, 1796
Poor $1500 - $3000

Convict artifact, Full leather binding, fixed endpaper with various handwritten text in ink, /1954/1834/710/ SETTLEMENT LIBRARY/A-No-197/CONVICT STORES SEPT/ No #/, single remaining page (p.141), titled 'An Apology for the Bible' authored by R. Landaff. Calgarth Park, Jan 20, 1796, with handwritten entry under text /PRINCESS LIBRARY/, with handwritten script to endpaper, /BOOKS ARE ISSUED TO PRISONERS/ON SATURDAYS BETWEEN THE HOURS/OF 4 AND 6 PM AND THE LOAN IS TO/BE REVIEWED AS THE, BOOKS RETURNED/AT THE SAME TIME ON THE FOLLOWING/SATURDAY/THE PRIVELIGE OF OBTAINING BOOKS/WILL BE FORFEITED BY ANY ONE/NEGLECTING TO CONFER WITH THIS/REGULATION/THE CLERK WILL WAIT UPON FREE/PERSONS AT THE EXPIRATION OF/SEVEN DAYS FROM THE DATE OF LOAN/FOR THE PURPOSE OF REVIEWING IT OR/RECEIVING BACK ANY BOOKS THAT/MAY HAVE BEEN BORROWED FROM THE/LIBRARY/ANY BOOKS LOST OR INJURED WILL/BE IMMEDIATELY REPORTED TO THE SUPERINTENDENT/, cover detached and showing tape marks from previous crude repair, endpaper toned, remaining page delicate, toned with tear, nibbles and missing corners, endpaper toned to peripheries, rear cover rubbed smooth with tape marks from previous repair, poor but still a unique relic from Tasmania's convict history.

Side note 1: 'R. Landaff' refers to Richard Watson, the Bishop of Llandaff (a historic diocese in Wales). 'Calgarth Park, Jan 20, 1796' is the exact signing date and location of the preface of his most famous work. In the 18th century, 'Apology' meant a formal defence, not an expression of regret. Bishop Watson wrote An Apology For The Bible as a direct, scathing rebuttal to Thomas Paine's famous anti-church text, The Age of Reason. Colonial authorities heavily distributed Watson's book to prisoners and working-class populations to counter radical political ideas and reinforce Christian morality.

Side note 2: Before a book entered a permanent shore-based 'Settlement Library', it usually travelled to Australia on a convict transport ship. By the late 1820s, the British Navy Office and religious charities routinely placed crates of moral books on transport ships for the duration of the voyage. These temporary collections were often called the 'Ship's Library' or explicitly named after the vessel. The Princess Royal was a well-known merchant vessel used to transport convicts to Australia. Crucially, it made a major voyage arriving in Hobart (Van Diemen's Land) in 1832 carrying male convicts.

Side note 3: Port Arthur was famously referred to in official dispatches and records simply as 'the settlement' or the 'Penal Settlement' and it had one of the most extensive and rigorously catalogued libraries in the entire penal system, designed under the 'mending the mind' philosophy of prison reform. By the 1840s and 1850s, its library boasted thousands of religious, educational, and moral volumes, all individually numbered and strictly tracked by a convict clerk. 1834 was also the year Port Arthur rapidly expanded its infrastructure (including the opening of Point Puer for juvenile convicts), leading to a massive influx of government stores and religious texts to reform prisoners.

Lot 419 Colonial Tasmanian Photograph Album, C. Late 1800S
G $1200 - $1800

Significant historical Victorian photograph album, size 23cm x 29cm, compiled during the late 1800s and comprising portraits of early Colonial vice-regal figures from the 1850s and 1860s sold as deluxe collectibles to upper-class families assembling historical or patriotic albums that was fashionable at the time. One of the photos is labelled 'Lady Fox Young, wife of Governor Sir Henry Fox Young', she was the first vice-regal consort of Tasmania (serving 1855–1861) and a highly prominent historical figure in early Australian colonial history, with the major city of Port Augusta in South Australia named entirely in her honour, surviving photographs of her appear to be scarce and quite rare. The album features full luxury dark leather binding with deeply embossed ornate decorative borders to both front and rear boards, with an original, functional heavy-gauge metal side clasp designed to secure the expanding card block, with decorative gilded endpapers with a repeating geometric pattern and a highly decorative, coloured chromolithograph floral title page centered with the text 'Album', card mounts feature die-cut windows, with select pages adorned with vivid, highly decorative coloured floral borders in the signature Tasmanian style, the album comprises 20 heavy double-sided cardstock pages with gilded edges (40 faces total, fully populated & including 20 large cards), housing a collection of contemporary portraits, the album's origin strongly attributes it to the prominent Launceston studio of W.H. Carl Burrows & Co. (operating the Melbourne Portrait Rooms on Brisbane Street), celebrated for incorporating artistic floral motifs into their studio merchandise, leather binding remains robust with crisp embossing, metal hardware intact and functional, pages and photographs with light to moderate foxing and some mounts split or torn, good.

Lot 420 NSW Legislative Council Act No. 1, 1824 — Spanish Dollars, 1824 - 1825
$500 - $1000

Printed leaf from the Acts of the Legislative Council of New South Wales, Sydney, royal arms at head, 'Anno Quinto Georgii IV. Regis. (No. 1.)', 'An Act to make Promissory Notes and Bills of Exchange, payable in Spanish Dollars, available, as if such Notes and Bills had been drawn payable in Sterling Money of the Realm. (September 28, 1824.)', signed in type 'Thomas Brisbane, Governor', passed the Council October 6, 1824, Francis Stephen, Clk. Col.; verso (p.4) with '(No. 2.)' An Ordinance to stay Proceedings against any Person advising, issuing, or executing any Proclamation, Order, or other Act of any Governor (January 4, 1825). The first Act passed by the Legislative Council of New South Wales, and the first Australian currency legislation. Binding edge frayed, some foxing.

Lot 421 Murray's Austral - Asiatic Review, Vol. I.- V., 1828

Professionally restored (rebound) first edition in light blue cloth with black print on white paper title labels, with retained part original wrapper, founded and edited by Robert Lathrop Murray & published in Hobart Town, Van Diemen's Land (Tasmania), comprising five volumes from February to December 1828, most wrappers missing and with dog-eared, delicate, aged paper, includes some particularly fragile and nibbled pages, interestingly, there appears to be a handwritten note (with embellishments) from the author before the first page of Vol I - No. III, Edited By / Robt Lathrop Murray / June 18th 1828 / Van Diemen's Land /, 606 pages plus volume contents pages, as described, excessively scarce.

Side note: Robert Lathrop Murray was a prominent early Australian journalist known for his sharp tongue and 'literary finesse'. He heavily campaigned for the freedom of the press against the strict, untrammeled power wielded by colonial authorities like Governor Ralph Darling and Lieutenant-Governor George Arthur. The review provided an intense platform for political commentary, cultural critique, and literary trends. It famously featured heavy coverage of high-profile political events, such as William Wardell's trial for libel against Governor Darling in Sydney. At the end of 1828, the publication merged with another local paper, The Tasmanian. This merger created a long line of succeeding titles, beginning with the Tasmanian and Austral-Asiatic Review, which went through multiple iterations until it was absorbed by the Colonial Times in 1845.

Lot 422 Bank of New South Wales, Share Certificate for One Hundred Pounds, 1832

$500 - $1000

Printed on vellum, Type 3, issued to Prosper de Mestre, 31st May 1832, No. 760 written, signed by Richard Jones (President), and Directors James Bettington and William Hutchinson, entered by J.H. Potts. Transferred on the back to John Paty on the 7th October 1834. Nearly extremely fine and very scarce.

Ex Noble Numismatics, Sale 66, Lot 2099.

Prosper de Mestre was born at sea on a British ship on the way to the West Indies in 1793. the son of a French Officer fleeing from France during the revolution. He was sent to school at Philadelphia U.S.A., where he remained until 1812. He then went to China, Mauritius, and India before arriving in the Colony in 1818. In Sydney he began business as a tea importer and became an intermittent director of the Bank from 1822, he was naturalised in 1825 in circumstances not without irony for he claimed he was a grandson of George III. James Brindley Bettington came to the Colony from a London firm of general merchants and importers of wool to become a woolbuyer and landowner. He was William Lawson's son-in-law.

Lot 423 Hobart Town, Commonwealth Cheques, Banknotes, 1835 - 1890

$500 - $1000

Black album with large accumulation of early bank cheques, personal cheques, store & bank notes, many Derwent Bank cheques, interesting lot.

Lot 424 Votes and Proceedings of the Legislative Council of Van Diemen's Land, 1837 - 1839
G - VG $1200 - $2400

Prestige binding in green cloth with embossed ornamentation & gilded title on leather mount, gilded edges, Van Diemen's Land: James Barnhard, Government Printer, Hobart Town. 1840., marbled endpapers, 165pp. covers worn with faded & part missing facing to spine, text block intact with binding exposed page 1, pages firm with minimal foxing and some aged toned early (full) pages, good to very good, a unique early record of Tasmania's Colonial history.

Side note 1: During this timeframe, Van Diemen's Land (later renamed Tasmania) was governed by Lieutenant-Governor Sir John Franklin, who arrived in early 1837. The Legislative Council was not a democratic parliament; its members were entirely appointed by the Crown. This included 'official' members (such as Chief Justice Sir John Pedder, the Colonial Secretary, and the Attorney-General) and 'non-official' members chosen from wealthy free settlers. Unlike modern 'Hansard' transcripts that record exactly what was spoken, the Votes and Proceedings capture what the chamber actually did; detailing motions, passed acts, voter tallies and tabled administrative reports.

Side note 2: The papers from 1837 to 1839 contain foundational documents tracking the shift from a penal colony to a civil society, focusing on; The Abolition of Gibbetting: an 1837 act famously updated criminal law to abolish the practice of hanging a body in chains (gibbetting) and removed the death penalty for certain property crimes, Convict Administration: Orders and allocations regarding the assignment and movement of convicts; Early Infrastructure and Finance: Early financial assessments, tax levies, and budget allocations for public works.

Lot 425 Colonial NSW 1838 Double Bay Lease for a Year, 1838
$100 - $200

Colonial NSW manuscript indenture on paper, lease for a year of Allotment 14, Town of Double Bay, Parish of Alexandria, County of Cumberland, bounded by South Street and Ocean Street, William Macdonald of Sydney Esquire to John Stuart of Double Bay yeoman, consideration five shillings, peppercorn rent, dated 30 January 1838, signed 'Wm Macdonald' with wafer seal and pencil attestation 'by his Attorney', docketed 'Lease for a Year', folded, toned along folds, small edge tear at foot.

Lot 426 Derwent Bank, Hobart Town, 1839
$200 - $400

Letter to Perkins Bacon & Co, London, per Isabella, dated 10 April 1839, 'Gentlemen, Being desirous of having steel plates made. Repaired and with piece missing at centre fold, otherwise fine and rare.

Lot 427 English and Foreign Bible Society, Bible (Remnant) gifted from Dr C.A. Browning, 1843
F - G $1500 - $2500

Convict inscribed artifact, full leather binding with embossed (and rubbed) title, 'English and Foreign Bible Society', front cover split from spine, spine worn & faded, missing free endpapers, title page and text block, first remaining page is titled 'Christ's entry into Jerusalem. Chapter XXI. The Fig Tree Cursed', last page titled 'The Poor are not to be despised. James, Of faith without works.', remaining pages age toned but clean, with inscription in ink to fixed endpaper, / JAMES MELLOR'S BOOK / A GIFT FROM / Dr C.A. BROWNING / JAN 14TH 1843 /, with binders ticket top left, L.M. Watkins, Binder, 47, St. Johns Square.

Side note 1: Dr Colin Arrott Browning (1791-1856) was a famous Royal Navy surgeon-superintendent who rose to international prominence for his revolutionary, deeply religious management of convicts transported to Australia. Instead of using the lash or irons, Dr Browning transformed convict ships into floating schools and chapels, using Bible Christianity to reform prisoners. He wrote a highly celebrated book about this system called The Convict Ship. Between 1831 and 1849, Dr Browning spearheaded nine convict voyages. His fifth voyage was aboard the convict transport ship Earl Grey. The Earl Grey departed Plymouth, England, on 5 October 1842, carrying 264 male convicts. The ship dropped anchor in Hobart Town, Van Diemen's Land (Tasmania) on 14 January 1843, the precise date of the above books inscription. Upon arrival, Dr Browning was famously detained in Hobart by Lieutenant-Governor Sir John Franklin to assist with local penal reforms and establish schools for female prisoners.

Side note 2: Dr Browning famously gifted Bibles and religious texts to his convicts upon disembarking. He even published a pamphlet on that exact day titled, 'A brief word of advice to the men who disembarked at Hobart Town from the ship 'Earl Grey', on the 20th day of January, 1843'. A James Mellor is not listed as one of the convicts onboard the Earl Grey, however, the following extract from THE HOBART TOWN GAZET'TE. TUESDAY, APRIL 3, 1849. AUDIT OFFICE. April 7, 1849. appears to confirm his convict status; 'His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor has directed the tickets of-leave granted to the undermentioned convicts to be cancelled for misconduct;' A James Mellor one of those mentioned.

Lot 428 Convict Ship Bible - Issued by the Navy Office, 1845
F - G $450 - $850

The New Testament of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, appointed to be read in churches, Oxford: printed at the University Press, MDCCCXLV, with stamp to bottom margin 'sold by T. Varty, 31 Strand'., full leather binding with embossed title & anchor to cover 'Navy Office Convicts', cover attached with one stitch and rubbed smooth, plain endpapers showing light to moderate foxing, pages crisp, clean and edge toned, some minor edge indentations, fair to good, cover wear does not align with text block condition.

Lot 429 Shipping order bound for Port Adelaide, 1846
VF $100 - $200

Lot 430 Results of a Series of Experiments for Determining the Relative Value of Specimens of Native Gold, by His Excellency Sir W.T. Denison F.R.S, 1852
G - VG $300 - $500

Stand alone offprint with pagination from 4-26 with title page, blank reverse & printers endpaper, from Papers & Proceedings of the Royal Society of Van Diemen's Land, Vol II (pages 201 to 224 in full volume), with dated inscription in ink to title page, unknown, Aug 1874, lower half of binding loose, text block complete with firm, aged toned pages, good or slightly better, scarce, if not unique document of this type, (Ferguson 9097).

Side note: Printed by H. and C. Best, Printers, 'Courier Office', Collins Street, Hobart Town, likely late 1852 or early 1853, to serve as an authoritative executive report on gold assay testing during the height of the Australian gold rush. Denison's calculations were critical to merchants, banks, and miners trying to trade newly discovered Victorian and local gold across the Tasman Sea without being cheated on purity.

Lot 431 The Guide to Tasmania by Hugh Munro Hull, 1858
F - G $150 - $300

Grey wrappers with black printed text, Tasmania: J. Walch and Sons; Wellington Bridge, Hobart Town, and Brisbane Street, Launceston, 1858, price 2/s, 96pp. plus 14pp. of advertisements, front cover with stains and missing (cut) & nibbled edges, rear cover missing, text block intact with firm aged toned pages, edges with some foxing spots, & corner folds, about good.

Lot 610 Switzerland, Henry I - from Kings & Queens of England Series by Dassier, 1731

aUNC $100 - $120

Bronzed copper medal, 41mm, 40.15g, by Dassier, toned brown, very lightly handled, nearly uncirculated.

Side note: *These medals were struck by the Swiss medalist Jean Dassier (1676-1763) in 1731. They represent the kings and queens of England in chronological order from William I (reigned 1066-1087). Dassier presented the group up to and including George II (reigned 1727-1760). Dassier published his series of the medals of the Kings and Queens of England in 1731, dedicating it to George II. The medals were available individually and as complete sets. They were struck in bronzed-copper, damascened copper (the relief gilded in contrast to bronzed fields) and silver. The dies for the medals were eventually purchased by Sir Edward Thomason of Birmingham, who reissued the medals c.1820. New obverse dies were also modelled after the originals and used to strike sets in white metal with new reverses that carried an inscription describing notable events of the reign of the individual depicted on the obverse.

Side note: After discussion with free settlers of Tasmania, the British Government agreed that transportation of convicts to Tasmania would cease in 1853. Coincidentally, this was also the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Colony. This fine medal commemorating these two major events is believed to have been designed by Sydney medallist, J. C. Thornthwaite. The production of such a large medal appears to have been beyond local capacity, and 9000 white metal (pewter) and 100 bronze medals were struck in England, for distribution in connection with the Jubilee Celebrations on 10th August, 1853.

Orton was born in 1795 in England, and entered the ministry in 1826. He was posted to Jamaica, and in 1831 arrived in Sydney. He continued his preaching in New Zealand, Tasmania, Victoria and South Australia. Orton conducted the first ordained Christian service in Victoria in 1836. He died in 1842 on a voyage back to England. Wesley was born in 1703, became a leader in Bible study and was ordained a Church of England minister in 1728. He rode on horseback to preach throughout England, wrote over 400 books and was the inspiration for the establishment of the Methodist Church, combining evangelical preaching with social concern. He became one of the most significant figures in British social and religious reform in the eighteenth century and one of the most significant church leaders of all time. Wesley died in 1791.

HOOD' in cartouche, reverse of anchor stamped 'W. GOLDING' and 'SILVER', toned in patches with some darker spots, otherwise clean, very fine.

Side note: The 'ROYAL RECEPTION COMMITTEE' and 'July EXECUTIVE 1901' inscription marks the July 1901 visit of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York (the future King George V and Queen Mary). Following the federation of the Australian colonies on 1 January 1901, the royal couple toured the new nation, arriving in Hobart, Tasmania, in July 1901 after opening the first Federal Parliament in Melbourne in May. Thomas L. Hood, a prominent Hobart bookseller, stationer, and citizen, served as an executive member on the local committee responsible for organizing the welcoming festivities, parades, and decorations for the royal visit.

Side note: D.W. Addison (D'Arcy Wentworth Addison, 1872–1955) was a high-ranking Tasmanian public servant. He served as the Secretary to the Premier of Tasmania and was appointed the official State Organiser for the 1920 Royal Visit. He was later appointed a Member of the Royal Victorian Order (MVO) and Companion of the Imperial Service Order (ISO) for his administrative contributions. In 1920, Edward, Prince of Wales (the future King Edward VIII, who later abdicated), embarked on an extensive, three-month tour of Australia aboard HMS Renown. The official purpose was to thank the Australian population for their massive sacrifices and contributions during the First World War.

Lot 878 Williamstown Dockyard Employee Badge, 1920S - 1940S
gF $100 - $200

Oval gilt and enamel employee badge, 44mm x 31mm, with white letters 'M H T' (Melbourne Harbour Trust) on a blue ground, by K.G. LUKE. MELB, 'WILLIAMSTOWN' above and 'DOCKYARD' below, numbered '526' on the reverse with pin fitting, some enamel scratching.

Lot 879 Hobart Souvenir Shield Badge, 1920 - 1950

VF $40 - $60

White metal badge, 35mm x 10mm, 5.79g, with intact pin attachment mechanism to reverse, toned, very fine.

Side note: The N.S.W.R. Ambulance Corps was established in the late 19th century to train railway employees in first aid. Because railway work was highly hazardous, staff were regularly tested on their skills. Members received a primary medal, followed by additional bars (like this 1949 piece) for passing subsequent annual examinations.

Lot 890 Victoria Police Gem-Set Silver Badge Brooch, 1950S - 1960S
gVF $250 - $450

Sterling silver Victoria Police style badge converted to a brooch, 43mm x 47mm, 14.89g, radiate star with laurel wreath surmounted by a St Edward's crown, centre with Southern Cross set with two blue and three red stones, reverse stamped 'STOKES MELB' with pin and clasp fitting, toned with bright highpoints, good very fine.

Side note: In the 1950s and 1960s, it was quite common for high-ranking police officers, retiring members, or their spouses to have custom presentation pieces commissioned directly from the original badge manufacturers. Striking a standard badge template in solid sterling silver rather than base metal, and custom-setting it with red and blue gemstones to highlight the Southern Cross stars, elevated the piece into a high-end gift or wearable heirloom.

Lot 891 Royal Visit Press Badge, 1954
gF $100 - $200

Shield-shaped enameled press badge, 38mm x 45.5mm, depicting the Commonwealth coat of arms, inscribed 'PRESS', 'COMMONWEALTH ACCREDITED', 'AUSTRALIA' and 'ROYAL VISIT', numbered '207' and marked 'AMOR SYDNEY' to the reverse, with pin fitting, enamel chipping and loss, blu tack material to pin attachment rev, good fine.

Lot 946 Colony of New South Wales, Victoria, Bushranger's Medal, 1851
aEF $55000 - $65000

Colony of New South Wales, the Queen Victoria Faithful and Distinguished Service 'Bushranger medal', engraved to SERGT. R. WORSLEY, MD. POLICE 1851 (Mounted Police). In November 1843, John Perfrement, the owner of the Golden Fleece Inn at Gammon Plains, was stopped by an armed bushranger about fifteen miles beyond Peel River in the Hunter Valley, NSW. His horse, boots, and everything else were taken from him. The robber, James Wilson (also known as 'The Little Scotchman'), was still continuing to plague travellers in the district for the next two years. NSW Mounted Police Sergeant Giles, Corporal Worsley and four privates had been in pursuit of Wilson's gang for a long period when Sergeant Giles resolved to divide his party and send Corporal Worsley and troopers Joyce and Maher to the ranges at the head of the Clarence River, while he and the other two troopers, proceeded to the Darling Downs where a robbery had been just committed. Four armed men had approached Mr. Bloxsome's station; Sutcliffe stood sentry over the door armed with a blunderbuss while the others raided the station. They escaped with horses belonging to Charles Gardiner and John Baker who was superintendent at the station. In a letter to his Commanding Officer Lieutenant Blair in May 1846, Worsley stated: 'Yulgilbar' 'Sir, I beg to state for your information that on the 7th May we were informed that the bushrangers Wilson and his party, of whom we were in pursuit, had robbed the station of Mr. Bloxome of Rostion. The next morning we went after them and took the aboriginal with us to track. We got on it on the morning of the 9th, and followed them over mountains and through scrubs so thick that we were obliged to cut our way through them with our knives. We fell in with them on the morning of the 12th, at half past eight o'clock; (|| Delaney was cooking at the time) we saw their fire from the ridge where we were on. I dismounted the men, as I would have been heard with the horses, from the bank of the creek upon which they were, being very hard and scrubby. As we came up the bank they were prepared. I ordered them to lay down their arms, but they refused to do so. The bushranger (Daniel) Delaney, whom we captured, being behind a tree, five yards from the bank, with double barrelled piece, he fired at me, but missed me; when seeing Wilson with a blunderbuss and spring bayonet attached, presented, and double barrelled gun at his knee, I fired at him, but missed, when Delaney rushed on me, and caught me in his arms around the body. I then ordered trooper Joyce, as he was close by, to do his duty, which he did, and shot him through the shoulder blade. I then, seeing trooper Maher in front of Wilson, without any covering, ran immediately to his assistance, when Wilson fired his blunderbuss at Maher, and shot him in the fleshy part of the thigh, and lodged thirteen buckshot in him, as he was making for cover. Maher then fired at him, and put a ball in his left elbow, he then ran with the double barrelled piece still in his hand; Maher followed and knocked him down with the butt of his carbine, which broke; he got up again and made an effort to cross the creek; I drew my pistol and shot him through the left side. Trooper Maher not being able to move, I went to see after the other two bushrangers, that we had not seen, as they had got into the scrub when we first challenged. At this time the affray was over, having lasted one hour. Wilson was severely wounded, but lived until half past three, being six hours and a half. I then mustered all I could find in the camp, consisting of eighteen stand of arms, six horses, four saddles (||belonging to the border police), two pack horses, with a quantity of ammunition and other baggage. Having one dead and two wounded men, and not knowing where we might find a station, I thought it best to remain all night, as we should have to go all over mountains. On the morning of the 13th, we started, and made an out station of Mr. Ogilvie's, on the Clarence River, about twelve miles distance, where I left the wounded in charge of trooper Joyce, and proceeded to the head station for assistance. Next morning I returned with a dray, when Joyce reported that one of the bushrangers, who had escaped, was lurking in the vicinity, where a shepherd brought him some meat to detain him until I should come back. I then rode off, and apprehended him in a gully, about three quarters of a mile from the station, with a double barrelled gun in his possession (this was Francis Sutcliffe). We brought the dead and wounded on the dray to the head station, where J. Melton, Esq. J.P., had arrived, in the absence of the Commissioner of Crown Lands, who had been sent for, but was out in pursuit of the party we had taken. We could get no medical aid up to the present, but I proceed tomorrow to New England for Doctor Traill, who is the nearest medical gentleman to this place. Trooper Maher is not mortally wounded, neither is the prisoner Delaney, but they are not in a fit state to be removed. Mr. Melton took down the depositions today when we interred Wilson. I am sir, your most obedient servant, Corporal Worsley, Mounted Police' Robert Worsley arrived in the colony 29th July 1830, as a member of the 17th (Leicestershire) Regiment of Foot, transferring to the 11th and joining the Mounted Police 14th October of the same year. Leaving the Mounted Police in November 1836, he appears to have re-joined 28th April 1839, being promoted to Corporal in June 1846. For his heroic part in the incident, shooting Wilson and the capture of two other bushrangers, Worsley was promoted to sergeant and awarded the above medal, one of only five 1851 medals in existence (one is un-named). An iconic memento of Australia's turbulent Colonial past, engraved by Thornwaite. From Freeman's Journal, published in Sydney 20/3/1851, 'Medal for the Police: a silver medal has been struck in Sydney to be given to those of the Police who are deemed of distinction. The medal is about as large in diameter as a five shilling piece, but more massive. On one side is the Queen's head with the inscription, 'Granted for faithful and distinguished services', on the other the arms of Australia, with the words 'Colony of New South Wales'. The name of the party to whom such a medal is given is stamped on the edge'. Ex Downies sale, Thursday 8th November 2019, lot 1814.

Prior to embarking he was promoted to Sergeant on the 28/10/14. He embarked from Melbourne as an original member of "B" Squadron, 8th LHR on the 25/02/15. Henry embarked for Gallipoli on the 16/05/15 and on the 7/08/1915 participated in the disasterous feint attack on the Turks at the Nek. Henry was part of the first wave of the charge and managed to get clear of the trench and began running before a bullet crashed into his hand, knocking him to the ground. With the wounded and dying laying all around him he sought cover behind a fallen Light Horseman. At some stage Nugent managed to regain the trench and later in a letter he sent home he described the charge, "It was grand to see the spirit in which the boys went over the top of that trench at the word of command. Every man knew that he was going to almost certain death, but not one hesitated. We had only 40 yards to go to the Turkish trenches, but not one man reached them. Our men fell dead and wounded 10 yards from the goal. It was just hell, and no man could penetrate it and live. 300 men of the 8LHR had attacked at the Nek, with 154 being KIA and another 80 WIA. Recovering from his wound and a bout of Enteric Fever Henry rejoined the 8 LHR on the 23/07/16. On the 27/07/16 was promoted to RSM. (WOI) and on the 3/01/17 he was promoted to 2nd Lieutenant. Henry was with the 8LHR during the Second Battle of Gaza and was awarded the Military Cross for this action. His citation states: "For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He set a fine example to his men in every way during our advance carrying a Hotchkiss rifle into action as well as leading his troops. His conduct through the whole of the fighting was marked by the greatest coolness." Henry RTA on the 11/11/17 and was discharged on the 1/03/18. During WWII he served at home (service number V80885) as a WO II with the 3rd Garrison Bn. He discharged on the 19/02/43 and died in Victoria on the 21/10/55.

Victoria Cross – Reverse of suspender bar engraved 2742 PTE. R. M. BEATHAM /LATE 8th Bn. AUS. IMP. FORCE. Reverse centre of cross engraved 9./AUG./1918. Robert Matthew Beatham was born on 16/06/1894 in Glassonby, Cumberland, England and migrated to Australia in 1909. He was working as a labourer in Geelong, Victoria when he enlisted in the AIF (service number 2056) on 8/01/15. He embarked from Melbourne on 17/04/15 with the 5th Reinforcements, 8th Battalion. Not long after arriving in Suez, on the 6/08/15, Robert was returned to Australia suffering from VD. On the 15/09/15 he re-embarked from Australia (service number 2742) with the 8th Reinforcements, 8th Battalion. He was T.O.S with the 8th Battalion at ANZAC on the 7/12/15. On the 26/03/16 he proceeded overseas, to join the B.E.F in France. Robert was WIA (GSW Back) at Pozieres on the 18/08/16 and after recovering from his wounds, rejoined his Battalion on the 30/09/16. On the 4/10/17 Robert was WIA, 2nd occasion, sustaining a bomb wound to his wrist while fighting at Broodseinde near Passchendaele. On the 9/01/18 he was charged with being AWL, from the 27/12/17 to the 5/01/18, and received a fine of 23 days loss of pay. Robert rejoined the 8th Battalion on the 19/02/18 and was with the Battalion during the Battle of Amiens between the 8th and 11th of August 1918. On the second day of the battle, they were attacking high ground near the French town of Lihons when it stalled under heavy machine gun fire. It was during this action that Robert was recommended for the Victoria Cross, for conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during the attack north of ROSIERES on 9.8.18. On the 11/08/18, when the Battalion neared its objective on the southern slope of Lihons, it was again halted by German reinforcements. Beatham, though wounded, rushed another machine-gun and bombed and silenced it. In doing so he was riddled with bullets and killed. His V.C citation: Pte BEATHAM showed such heroism and courage that he inspired all officers and men in his vicinity in a wonderful manner. When the advance was held up by heavy machine gun fire, Pte BEATHAM dashed forward and assisted by one man bombed and fought the crews of four enemy machine guns, killing ten of them and capturing ten others. The bravery of the action greatly facilitated the advance of the whole battalion and prevented casualties. In fighting the crew of the first gun he was shot through the right leg but continued in the advance. When the final objective was reached and fierce fighting taking place, he again dashed forward and bombed the machine gun that was holding our men off, getting riddled with bullets and killed in doing so. His heroism and self-sacrifice were not in vain and as his bombs knocked out the enemy machine gun our men were enabled to advance. V.C promulgated London Gazette 13th of December 1918, Supplement 31067, page 14779. Seven out of the nine Beatham brothers served during WWI. Namely: M/345582 Pte. $800 - $1000

British War Medal (2183 PTE.J.J. KELLY. 4 BN A.I.F.), Victory Medal (2183 PTE.J.J. KELLY. 4 BN A.I.F.), Queen Elizabeth II, Silver Coronation Medal, 1953 (unnamed as issued).

Jeremiah Joseph Kelly, born on the 22nd December 1895 in Wollongong, New South Wales, was the son of Mr Thomas Kelly. As a young man, he completed universal training with the Citizen's Forces for 1 year 10 months, serving with the 37th Infantry Battalion, and was a labourer by trade. He attested for the A.I.F. on the 10th May 1915 at the enlistment centre in Liverpool, New South Wales, and was assigned the regimental identity Private 2183, and posted to the 6th reinforcements to the 4th Infantry Battalion. After only a month of training, he embarked for overseas service from Sydney, New South Wales on board HMAT Karoola on 16th June 1915, and joined the 4th Battalion on the Gallipoli Peninsula on 4th August 1915. At the time Kelly arrived and was integrated into the Battalion, the men of his unit were preparing itself for the intense action of the Battle of Lone Pine, to which we assume he was part of. Between September 1st – 11th, the 4th Battalion were evacuated to Lemnos thoroughly shattered after the battle – during the evacuation, Kelly was transferred to the hospital ship on the 10th September due to dysentery, and was moved to hospital on Malta on the 16th September then later to Egypt on the 14th December 1915 with dysentery as well as enteric fever. Despite surviving the fateful Lone Pine, the subsequent illnesses proved too much of a battle and Kelly was deemed unfit for service. He was returned to Australia on the 21st January 1916 on board HMT Commonwealth. He returned to civilian life and later became the husband of Mrs Eileen Kelly.

Although a short time in the AIF, his service to the community was far from over - returning to his hometown Wollongong, he became the Secretary of the Returned Solders' Association and then the first elected president of the Wollongong sub-Branch of the new Returned Soldiers and Sailors Imperial League of Australia (the forerunner of the RSL). In 1922, aged 26, Kelly began a 37-year career in the local government, and for several periods was the elected Mayor of the City of Greater Wollongong: 1934-36, 1942-44, and, most importantly, 1951-1956. For his position as Mayor of a major city like Wollongong, Kelly was awarded the 1953 Queen Elizabeth II silver coronation medal as one of the 11,500 medals allocated for Australia. In 1954, when Elizabeth II was touring Australia as part of her Royal Visit, Major Kelly had the honour of escorting the queen through Wollongong, the first reigning monarch to visit the city.

Unfortunately missing the 1914-15 star, otherwise an exceptional group to a very important historical figure of Australian history.

Arthur Henry Daw, the son of Mr Henry Daw and Mrs Sarah Daw (nee Lewis), was born in Edwardstown, Adelaide, South Australia on the 30th May 1869 as one of ten children, and as a young adult was a butcher by trade. At the age of 46, Daw attested for the AIF at the enlistment centre in Adelaide on the 4th October 1915 and was posted to the 2nd reinforcements to the 1st remount unit, and assigned the rank Private and service number 2499. Unit embarked from Melbourne on board HMAT Afric on the 5th January 1916. His unit's primary role was to care for, train, and supply remounts (replacement horses and later mules) for Australian mounted units, and therefore did not often see action. He was stationed in Egypt to fulfill this role as many of the mounted units, the Light Horse and Camel Corps, operated in the Egyptian theatre of war. Returned to Australia 6th October 1919 on board HMNZT Pakeha and returned to civilian life. Arthur Daw later married Clarice Myrtle Willson on the 20th July 1927 at the St. Mary's Church, Edwardstown, and passed away on the 11th January 1936.

Lot 1025 DSO - Gona, medal group of seven, 1939-45

$8000 - $12000

GVI Distinguished Service Order, 1939-45, Africa and Pacific Stars, Defence, War and Australian Service Medals awarded to Alfred Robinson. DSO -reverse of suspender engraved "1943", 1939-45 and Pacific Stars both engraved WX1589 A. ROBINSON, Africa Star unnamed. Defence, War and ASM all impressed WX1589 A. ROBINSON. Note: The WWII campaign medals were a late claim and were not posted until the 18/12/73. (They are named accordingly). At this time Alfred was not entitled to the Africa Star, however in 1995 the qualifying conditions changed to include the Syrian campaign and an unnamed Africa Star has been added at some stage to complete Alfred's medal entitlement. Alfred Robinson was born on the 13/04/06 in Prescot, England and emigrated to Australia with his parents when he was four. Alfred was serving with the 11th (Militia) Bn in W.A when he enlisted in the 2nd A.I.F (service number WX1589) on the 1/05/40. He was seconded to the 2/16th Bn and appointed Captain. He embarked from Fremantle on the 25/10/40 and disembarked in the M.E on the 25/11/40. He served with the 2/16th Bn throughout the Syrian and Lebanon campaigns before RTA on the 25/03/42. Alfred embarked from Brisbane for N.G on the 6/08/42 and on the 19/09/42 was promoted to Major. He was severly WIA on the 1/12/42 (GSW neck and arm) whilst leading an assault in the Gona Mission area. For his gallant deeds during this action he was awarded the DSO. His citation states: "It is recommended that Maj. Robinson be awarded the D.S.O. for his outstanding courage and fine leadership during a dawn attack by the 2/16 Aust. Inf. Bn. on 1st December 1942, against the heavily defended beach posts of the enemy in the Gona Mission area. Several attacks had failed to dislodge the enemy. Maj. Robinson who was O.C. of a Composite Company, managed to rally a party of fifteen men and with complete disregard for his own safety, led his men forward again and again against seemingly impossible posts which were well dug in, and which were proving such stumbling blocks to our own forces. During the attack Maj. Robinson was wounded in the shoulder but he continued on and with his men inflicted extremely heavy casualties on the enemy. Again Major Robinson was hit but this time being seriously wounded had to be evacuated, but not before he had urged his men to even greater efforts. He was an example to his men which would be hard to emulate, and his personal courage and leadership was an inspiration to all. His actions alone made it possible for his men to face such heavy fire." DSO promulgated in the L.G 22/04/43 and C of A Gazette 1/04/43. Alfred RTA on the 12/12/42 and on the 2/05/44 was medically classified class"D". He was discharged on the 10/06/44. He died on the 4/08/1993. Francis was awarded the MBE in 1947, his citation states: "In the advance of 19 Inf Bde from Dagua to and including the capture of Wewak and Wirui, WO Pirera supervised all bomb disposal carried out by the 2/2 Fd. Coy, which was in close support of the Bde. With his party of Sappers Pirera was resposible for the demolishing and refusing of all types of bombs in the Dangua, Wom and Wewak areas. A number of American bombs fused with AN 115 series and M112 series were difused in Dangua Area. These fuses after being dropped are in a particularly dangerous condition and must be handled with great care as the cocked striker is in a sensitive state. In the same area a number of Jap incendiary bombs in a smoking condition were reported in the RAAF lines. WO Pirera picked these up and carried them from the camp, drowning them in the sea. On numerous occasions when Coy HQ was advised of UXB in Bde and Bn lines the CSM (WO Pirera) personally defused or drowned same. From Bn lines in the Wewak area Pirera carried out and drowned four Jap HE shells which were smoking indicating that the explosive had ignited and was therefore liable to explode due to the heat generated. On another occasion WO Pirera removed the fuses from Jap HE bombs and removed the detonator from the fuses before sending them to HQ RAE for intelligence purposes. At all times WO Pirera showed great devotion to duty, steadfastness and entire disregard for personal safety. From 9 April 45 to 6 June 45 he with Sappers dealt with 150 UXBs without a single casualty." MBE promulgated L.G 6/03/47. Included is a large quantiy of photos and ephemera, pay book, ribbon bars and ID tags.

THURSDAY 29TH OCTOBER
9AM (AEST)

MILITARIA

Lot 1196 Officers Epaulettes - The 39TH (Dorsetshire) Regiment of Foot, C. 1830 - 1848
$600 - $1200

Pair of Officers gilt and brocade Epaulettes, The 39TH (Dorsetshire) Regiment of Foot, made by R. Ponder, 37 Duke St, St James, London, likely belonging to a subaltern officer ((such as a Lieutenant or Ensign) or an officer serving in a Light Company or Grenadier Company, where the fringe was omitted to prevent it from getting tangled in musket slings or gear, excellent condition, lightly handled, in original japanned tin flight case, worn exposing silver tin, also including brass field service/ undress belt buckle very scarce, with tickets.

Side note: Between 1825 and 1832, the 39th Regiment was stationed in Australia. They served as convict guards and garrison troops across Sydney, Hobart, Bathurst, and the Swan River Colony. Most notably, the famous Australian explorer Captain Charles Sturt was an officer of the 39th Foot during this time. There is a strong possibility these epaulettes belonged to an officer deployed to the early Australian colonies.

Side note: The P.W.V.V.L.H. refers to the Prince of Wales Victorian Volunteer Light Horse, a historic colonial military unit in Australia. The "Metropolitan Troop" was a specific division within this mounted force, and they had a corresponding Troop Rifle Club dedicated to military marksmanship. Today, its proud traditions and honours are carried on by the 4th/19th Prince of Wales's Light Horse Regiment, an active Australian Army Reserve unit equipped with Bushmaster Protected Mobility Vehicles.

Loone, New Town, Hobart, Tasmania, cover showing wear & faded spine, first few pages loose & nibbled, otherwise clean pages with foxing limited to edges & peripheries, good or slightly better.

Side note: The book provides a comprehensive, first-hand record of the Tasmanian military contingents that served during the Second Boer War (Transvaal War) in South Africa between 1899 and 1902. It represents the first major conflict Australia participated in as a collection of colonies moving into Federation and provides a unique localised lens on early Australian military identity. It includes a detailed history of the Tasmanian contingents, including the Bushmen, the First Australian Commonwealth Horse, and the volunteer units. It is rich in primary sources, including personal soldier diaries, private letters, press summaries, medical documents, and official military reports.

Lot 1220 Notebook of Lance Corporal A. Evans, 2ND Battalion Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders, 1908 - 1910
VG $400 - $800

Soldier's commonplace book or 'Veldt Scrapbook', personal note book with black textured (leather?) cover & lined pages, with handwritten note on inside cover, Lance Corpl A. (Alec) Evans / 'A' Comny (?), South'd High'rs / Bloemfontein ORC / S. Africa /, the note book has a couple of diary entries then consists of a full book of mostly handwritten poems, book & song extract texts, photographs & magazine/book cuttings, includes original personal photographs of 'Jock McKay in dress uniform', a group photograph labelled 'Bloemfontein 1908', a postcard of the Band Master in full dress and a postcard of Church Parade, Rochester Cathedral, April 22 '07, to Alec's address in South Africa from 'his old chum, Sammy'.

Side note: The 2nd Battalion (historically known as the 93rd Sutherland Highlanders) did not serve as a full battalion in South Africa during the actual Boer War (1899–1902), instead, they were stationed in India during that conflict. However, they were deployed to South Africa during the crucial post-war garrison and reconstruction era. The 2nd A&SH were stationed at the Tempe Garrison in Bloemfontein. By late 1909, the British military began consolidating forces ahead of the creation of the Union of South Africa. The 2nd A&SH received orders to repatriate. 'A' Company traveled by train down to the port of Durban, boarding the P&O transport ship SSS Soudan to sail back to Southampton on New Year's Day, 1st January 1910 (mentioned in the note book). As a Lance Corporal, Evans was a non-commissioned officer (NCO) responsible for leading a small section of men within 'A' Company. Given his return timeline in 1910, he likely went on to serve with the regiment during the outbreak of the First World War in 1914, where the 2nd Battalion fought on the Western Front as part of the British Expeditionary Force.

Hampson, size 27cm x 30cm, entitled KERMIT MORROW. 'THE PIMPLE' N.G. DEC 1943, black and white photo, size 19cm x 29.5cm inc frame, entitled GOING INTO ACTION. on SHAGGY RIDGE, NEW GUINEA, DEC. 1943, colour photograpgh in frame, size 25.5cm x 30.5cm of Private Andrew Kermit Morrow in uniform, book extract showing maps of Bougainville Campaign Nov 1944-June 1945, New Britain Campaign Oct 1944-July 1945 & Aitape-Wewak Campaign Nov 1944-Aug 1945, large folded hand drawn map of Katerangan on tracing paper, delicate with multiple folds, tears and splits and 50th Anniversary of the End of the Second World War certificate to Andrew K Morrow (NX150967) from the Prime Minister Hon Paul Keating MP, Minister for Veterans Affairs Hon Con Sciacca MP & Federal Member Paul Elliott, significant group related to the 'face' of one of Australia's most iconic WWII combat photographs.

Side note 1: Private Andrew Kermit Morrow (Service Number: NX150967) was an Australian World War II soldier who served in the 2/16th Australian Infantry Battalion. He is famously captured in an iconic Australian War Memorial historical photograph, resting just moments before his unit's pivotal assault on a formidable Japanese stronghold known as "The Pimple" along Shaggy Ridge in New Guinea.

Side note 2: On 27 December 1943, Private Morrow and the men of the 2/16th Battalion were positioned on Shaggy Ridge, a razor-back mountain track in the Finisterre Range. The Japanese army had heavily fortified a rocky outcrop nicknamed 'The Pimple', which completely blocked the Allied advance toward the northern coast. Because the ridge was so narrow, frequently only wide enough for one soldier to walk at a time, the attack required incredible bravery, relying on a single file rush supported by intense artillery and air strikes. The photograph of Private Morrow relaxing right before this intense, successful operation remains an important visual record of the calm resolve displayed by Australian soldiers during the New Guinea campaign.

Lot 1411 New Zealand, Air Force, 1939 - 1945
$50 - $100

Scarce original Royal New Zealand Air Force other ranks cap badge, dating from the King George VI period.

Die-stamped in brass, the badge features a crowned laurel wreath with the "RNZAF" monogram prominently displayed at the centre. The reverse retains its original two loop fittings and split pin. It measures approximately 45 mm in height and remains in very good condition, showing only minimal service wear.

Also included are three RNZAF uniform buttons bearing the following maker's marks: Gaunt London 051015/1/43, Stokes & Sons, and J.R. Gaunt Montreal.

An attractive and collectible group of original Royal New Zealand Air Force insignia.

Lot 1412 New Zealand, North Auckland Regiment, circa 1916
$50 - $100

These badges were worn by members of the 15th (North Auckland) Regiment, formed in 1911 from volunteer infantry units within the Auckland Military District. The regiment was renamed in 1951.

Its insignia incorporates fern leaves, representing New Zealand, and a crown, symbolising loyalty to the monarch. The regimental motto, "Pour Devoir," is French for "For Right." [8]

Lot 1413 New Zealand, Auckland Regiment Cap Badges, 1921 - 1964
$50 - $100

Scarce die-cast gilt crowned title circlet resting in laurel sprays bearing scroll "COUNTESS OF RANFULY'S OWN'; mailed arm holding sheaf to voided centre. Loops. Includes Officers and other rank varieties. [3]

Lot 1414 New Zealand, The New Zealand Scottish Regiment, 1939

$50 - $100

Bright white-metal badge featuring a diamond-cut four-pointed star and superimposed saltire. At the centre is a vertical oval circlet inscribed "MO RICH MO DHUTHAICH" ("My King, My Country"), enclosing a thistle head with two leaves. A fern frond overlays the base of the circlet, while an open wreath of thistles surrounds its sides.

Scrolls positioned on either side of the crown bear the words "SCOTTISH" and "REGIMENT," with a further downward-curving scroll inscribed "NEW ZEALAND." The reverse is fitted with two traditional mounting lugs.

The New Zealand Scottish Regiment was a Territorial Force infantry regiment established in 1939 for New Zealanders of Scottish descent and served in this capacity throughout the Second World War. It was reformed in 1949 as part of the Royal New Zealand Armoured Corps, initially serving as a divisional regiment before later operating as an armoured car and, subsequently, an armoured personnel carrier unit. [4]

Lot 1415 New Zealand, Expeditionary Force, 1939 - 1945

$50 - $100

New Zealand Expeditionary Force cap badges featuring a laurel wreath surmounted by a King's Crown. The centre displays the voided letters "NZ," while a ribbon scroll beneath the wreath bears the motto "ONWARD."

The reverse is fitted with two traditional mounting lugs, positioned on either side of the central "NZ" insignia. A distinctive piece of New Zealand military history and an excellent addition to any militaria collection. [8]

Lot 1416 New Zealand, The Royal Anglian Regiment, 1964

$50 - $100

Royal New Zealand Infantry Regiment (RNZIR) badge set in excellent used condition.

The main badge features a crowned oval centre surrounded by silver-toned fern fronds. Its red and blue enamel detailing is complemented by a raised kiwi emblem and the inscription "ROYAL NEW ZEALAND INFANTRY REGIMENT." A gold-toned scroll at the base displays the regimental motto, "ONWARD."

The reverse has a textured finish and is fitted with two threaded mounting posts and circular retaining nuts. The set also includes matching left- and right-facing collar badges featuring the regiment's distinctive insignia, each fitted with traditional fastening lugs for attachment to a dress uniform collar.

All three badges retain crisp detail, with only light signs of previous use consistent with their excellent condition. A genuine New Zealand military surplus insignia set and an excellent addition to any RNZIR or New Zealand military collection. [3]

Lot 1417 New Zealand, Button Collection

$50 - $100

A collection of buttons from the New Zealand Force and Police Force. Included buttons as: Button Limited, Stokes & Sons, J.R. Gaunt & Son and Firmin London [15]

Side note: The South African Light Horse regiment was formed in the Cape Colony in November 1899. The unit is highly celebrated in British military history, famously counting a young Winston Churchill among its early officers. The date '1899' on the central roundel commemorates the exact year the regiment was raised at the outbreak of the Second Anglo-Boer War.

Lot 1421 South Africa, Star Badge, C. 1910

gF $50 - $100

Hollow-back stamped five-pointed star badge with ball-tipped points, 41mm, 4.11g, scroll-decorated arms and recessed central roundel (loose fitting), legend 'SOUTH · AFRICA', reverse with two slot fittings and remains of an old collector's ticket numbered '35', central roundel vacant, general wear, good fine.

Side note: The base star is most frequently associated with the South African Constabulary (SAC) or the Union Defence Forces active around the time of the Anglo-Boer War through the early 1910s. When complete, the recessed roundel typically housed a separate metal device, such as a localized King's Crown or a specific unit monogram.

Side note: Chit's for these units date back to a pivotal period in World War II when they served alongside one another in the Middle East. The 24th Australian Infantry Brigade, formed in July 1940 as part of the Second Australian Imperial Force (2nd AIF). In December 1940, it was transferred to the famous 9th Australian Division. The brigade became famous for its defensive role during the historic Siege of Tobruk in 1941, and later fought in the First and Second Battles of El Alamein, Egypt in 1942. 4th Australian Light Anti-Aircraft Regiment (2/4th LAA), was raised in Palestine in January 1942. Equipped with Bofors anti-aircraft guns, the regiment was attached directly to the 9th Australian Division to provide close-range air protection. They protected vital artillery lines and troop concentrations during the breakout phase of the Battle of El Alamein.

Side note: During World War II, Fiji served as a vital forward base for Allied forces (including New Zealand and United States troops) fighting in the Pacific theater. To manage transactions and shortages of physical metal currency within military stations and service hubs, paper chits or coupons were printed for servicemen to purchase goods, rations, or services. The Grand Pacific Hotel, a famous colonial luxury hotel built by the Union Steam Ship Company in Suva, was requisitioned during the war and effectively turned into an officers' quarters and military hub.

Officers' Club Habbaniya chit for 5 fils, 67mm x 51.5mm, black ink on light orange paper, half-perforations left, very fine and scarce.

Side note: RAF Habbaniya, located west of Baghdad, was a vital British military hub established in the 1930s. It famously withstood a siege by Iraqi forces in May 1941 during the Anglo-Iraqi War. This chit served as internal currency within the base's Officers' Club, bypassing the need for local coinage for small daily transactions. RAF Squadrons based there included Nos. 6, 30, 32, 55, 70 and 73.

Lot 1484 Great Britain, R.A.F. Sub-Station Chedburgh Officer's Mess Chit, One Penny - One Shilling, WWII

Side note: RAF Chedburgh is located in Suffolk, England and was a wartime Class A airfield built in 1942. It served as a satellite station for RAF Stradishall and hosted heavy bomber squadrons (flying Stirlings and Lancasters), including No. 214 and No. 218 Squadrons, under No. 3 Group, Bomber Command.

Lot 1485 Great Britain, H.M.S. Argus Chit, Threepence - Fourpence, WWII
aUNC $100 - $150

H.M.S. Argus Chit (2), value fourpence & threepence, 78mm x 43mm, black ink on brown paper, both with intact side butt with staple holes, nearly uncirculated.

Side note: Originally a liner, the Conte Rosso, in 1914, she was purchased for the Navy in 1916 and completed as an aircraft carrier in 1918, but too late to take part in any active WWI operations. In view of the difficulties experienced in landing on deck of HMS Furious due to air eddies caused by hot furnace gases from the funnel, and displacement currents from upper-works, HMS Argus was designed with a perfectly clear flying-deck from stem to stern, and furnace smoke gases were expelled by fans through big horizontal smoke ducts opening out aft. Her chart house was raised and lowered on a lift and the two wireless masts were hinged to fall flush with the deck. Twenty aeroplanes could be stowed in the hangar, which was divided into four sections by fire-proof screens and communicated with the flying deck by means of two lifts. Amidships were wind-breaking palisades, which could be raised to protect machines on deck, and two derricks were fitted and two cranes for lifting aircraft from the water. The hull contained the carpenters' and engineers' workshops, equipped for maintenance and repair of aircraft. The ship was launched on 2 December 1917, she undertook voyages to deliver new planes to Malta & Norway during the early part of WWII and she saw further action in 1942 when she served with Force H in the Mediterranean and later supported the North Africa landing. On her return to Britain she became a training ship for the Fleet Air Arm and reduced to reserve in 1943 becoming an accommodation ship in 1944. HMAS Argus was scrapped in December 1946.

Lot 1486 Great Britain, 11TH Royal Fusiliers Voucher, 10 Centimes - 50 Centimes, WWI
aUNC $300 - $600

11TH Royal Fusiliers Voucher, set of three including 50 centimes, #07881, 48.5mm x 32mm, black ink on pale green paper, 20 centimes, #07994, 50mm x 32mm, black ink on pale brown paper & 10 centimes, #07881, 50mm x 32mm, black ink on cream paper, all with signature by Major A.E. Sulman, half-perforations to three sides, all about uncirculated.

Side note: *These vouchers were introduced to counteract the difficulty in obtaining small change for the French five franc note with which the men of the battalion were paid, neither the shop keepers nor the canteens had anything like enough change available and, consequently, the men were unable to buy what they wanted. Books of vouchers were devised and printed in England and sent to the Battalion Headquarters where they were issued to the troops in exchange for their five franc notes. They were effective and popular, so much so, that they were used, not only by the 11th (Service) Battalion (RF) but by others in the same Division. They were freely accepted in payment by the village shop keepers who brought their vouchers to the Battalion HQ once a week and received payment. *Numista.

Ex Noble Sale, Lot 924.

Side note: *Dated 1823 but some believe that this token was struck after this date. Andrews notes that Van Diemen's Land was not officially called Tasmania for another 33 years, although the use of Tasmania was recorded on some maps as early as 1808 & certainly used informally in the early 1820's. Records do not mention or contain any evidence that this piece went into circulation., in fact, most remaining examples do not show much circulation wear. The partners ship 'Hope' was impounded and delayed by British Authorities in 1821. If these tokens existed then (2000 approx mintage), it is possible that they were confiscated or sold for expenses, with but a handful surviving. Silver shilling tokens like these were fairly common in Great Britain during the early 1800's. The British Museum received their example in 1848.

Lot 1654 A- /R- De Carle, E & CO, Dunedin, New Zealand, Penny
aVF $3500 - $4000

Uniface pattern penny, portrait of the Duke of Wellington, dark brown patina with rubbed high points, showing scratches and a few rim knocks, about very fine, otherwise excessively scarce, only 2 or 3 examples known, (A- /R- / H-).

Side note: *This uniface token appears to portray the Duke of Wellington and Edward Wills, whom had one in his collection, considered that it was intended for NZ usage. If so, Edward De Carle was the only NZ issuer that used a token design influenced by the GB monarchy before 1874 (AVLA & United Service Hotel) and for this reason, it has been suggested that the piece was intended for him, (more research is required).

*A Study of Australasian Trade Tokens, by Simon Gray.

EF $50 - $80

Iron currency made in Sierra Leone that circulated in West Africa, 310mm long with T end (nling/ear) and Blade end (kodo/foot), nice longer example.

Side note: *The Kissi penny, also seen transcribed as kissy or kisi penny or known as guenze, koli, and kilindi, was an iron currency made in Sierra Leone that circulated widely in the immediate vicinity of its production among Gbandi (Bandi), Gola, Kissi, Kpelle, Loma, Madinka, Mende and other people of Liberia, Sierra Leone and Guinea-Conakry. They ranged in length from about 150mm to as long as 400mm. A score of oranges could be bought for two, or a bunch of bananas. Because each one had relatively small value, they were often gathered into bundles (usually of 20). Even after they were discontinued for use as currency, Kissi pennies continued to be employed in the society of the region, for example, as tokens of completing rituals in the Poro and Sande societies; as bride-wealth and also placed on tombs and graves, where they were believed to channel the souls of the dead. *Wikipedia

Kemp & Gatehouse, Hobart Town, Van Diemen's Land, currency note, one pound, 1st April 1824 (year 18 printed), No. 1008, hand signed by Wmn. Bunster, on printed form by S. Clayton, Sculpt, Sydney (This note MVR illustrated, p.22), note in two halves, some rust, and holes from folds, otherwise nearly fine, the note except for being in two, is overall in better than average condition for VDL notes of this period, unique.

Side note: Anthony Fenn Kemp (1773?-1868) soldier and merchant arrived in Sydney in 1793. He spent time in Van Diemen's Land on several occasions and at the time of issue of this note was foundation director and later president of the Van Diemen's Land Bank. Soon after his arrival in Hobart Town he established the firm of Kemp and Gatehouse which was changed to Kemp & Co (c.1823-5?) when Richard Barker was taken into partnership. The company was disolved in 1829. (See, Australian Dictionary of Biography Vol. 2, p.40 for more detailed biography of this man).

PAYABLE, WHEN TO THE AMOUNT OF FIVE SHILLINGS AND UPWARDS, IN SPANISH DOLLARS, vertically left with ornamentation top & bottom, virtually complete note with missing pieces from top & bottom margins, delicate, toned & with some (pin)holes, otherwise strong details with defined handwriting, very good or slightly better, _very scarce, (CN.30).

Lot 3034 Promissory note, (New South Wales - later Queensland) Moreton Bay, Kangaroo Point, One Shilling, 1849
aVF $1000 - $1600

Promissory note, (New South Wales - later Queensland) Moreton Bay, Kangaroo Point, one shilling-1849 unused, imprint 'J.Swan, Printer, Brisbane', size 198mm x 63mm, black print on light green paper (Percy Marks p.140, note mentioned and illustrated in Vort Ronald, Colonial Currency & Promissory Notes, page.37), adhered to backing paper, with vertical creases, some foxing and pinholes, otherwise about very fine and extremely rare.

Lot 3035 Commercial Betting Company NSW, One Pound, C. 1850S
Poor $150 - $300

Commercial Betting Company NSW, one pound, No 310259, undated signed in black ink by a manager, black on white, circa 1850s in style of Bank of New South Wales, (this note type illustrated Vort Ronald, Shinplaster, page.36), in pieces adhered to thin backing paper, 'Forged/Banknote' written in ink on separate note paper (not included with this lot) otherwise fair and very rare.

Ex Noble Sale No. 106, Lot 2744.

Lot 3036 Scottish Australian Agency, Twenty Shillings, C. 1850S
VG $500 - $800

Scottish Australian Agency, twenty shillings sterling order, not dated (c.1850s with printed date 185-), printer's proof, on printed unwatermarked paper, vignette of Queen Victoria as on shield sovereign, no imprint, black on white, (cf. Butlin p.311-2 on Scottish Australian Investment Company), (this note illustrated Vort Ronald, Shinplaster, page.93), delicate with decent legibility, multiple folds & crease holes, showing foxing, otherwise very good and extremely rare, being the second known specimen.

Side note: Little is known about the Scottish Australian Agency apart from the existence of this proof. The Agency is probably that mentioned by Butlin as being the Scottish Australian Investment Company which had its origins in Aberdeen in 1840 and began business in Sydney in August 1842 as a mortgage loan company. The bottom of the note reads, 'This Note will be received in payment of passages and freights by ships dispatched under the directions or auspices of this Agency.' and this suggests involvement in trade and immigration.

Ex Noble Sale No. 106, Lot 2743.

Lot 3037 Chilwell Store Shinplaster Promissory Note, Two Pence, 1850 - 1865
Good $300 - $650

Quirky, elaborately designed shinplaster promissory note, black ink on off-white paper, adhered to backing card, quite strong ink, repaired right corner, paper toned with a few nibbles, good.

Side note: Low-denomination paper token issued in the 19th century by a merchant in Chilwell (a suburb of Geelong, Victoria) to overcome an acute shortage of official government coinage, coinciding with Australia's gold rush era.

Lot 3038 Bank of In Depend Ence (or Melbourne), Melbourne, One Pound, 1857
VG $500 - $800

Bank of In Depend Ence (or Melbourne), Melbourne, one pound, currency note, February 1857, (date printed), numbered A125247, printed signature of Director, James W. Howarth (?) San Francisco, and hand signed by Agent, Elias L. Venuzuila (?), printed on unwatermarked paper, note described as 'BANK OF In Depend Ence MELBOURNE' at top, with imprint on centre of bottom, 'H. WATKINS, ENG. NEW YORK', with vignette of Chinese couple and store with various labels, ONE in oval tablet around legend 'The best price for returning gold diggers implements, General Stores for tents, picks and cradles', rectangular tablet lower left stating below it 'JR Importer and Dealer in Revolvers, Guns, Tea, Sugar Etc.' on front of note, 'Promise to pay the Bearer on Demand the Sum of ONE POUND Sterling for value in Gold Dust, For the Melborne Bank', also with two large rectangular CANCELLED stamps, black on white, (this note illustrated Vort Ronald, Miscellaneous, page. 23), missing lower right corner replaced by hand drawn corner as added to the note, many folds and creases, with unobtrusive pinholes from folds, heavy aging tone, otherwise very good, extremely rare and probably unique.

Side note: A self styled bank, the Bank of "In Depend Ence" or Melbourne, was a name apparently used by a general store whose primary business appeared to be to supply goods and services to people going to and from the goldfields. It's use and function is at present not known. The note does suggest a fraudulent purpose, and was meant to pass as an issue from a known bank like the Bank of Van Diemen's Land. The similarity of these two notes indicate a common association and a deliberate attempt to copy and pass the note as a genuine issue. The note also has the word Melbourne incorrectly spelt in the reading 'For the Melborne Bank' as further evidence of amateur printing and possible protection from possible charges of fraud. No record exists of a Bank of Independence or of a Bank of Melbourne. To pay "in gold dust" is unusual. Whether the note was printed in the USA or a local Melbourne production is also uncertain but the crudeness of issue and overall lack of quality from a reputable printing company lends further credence to a fraudulent intention. A note requiring much more research, it is an interesting item, and apparently unique.

Side note: Ex Noble Sale 106 (lot 2806), previously from the Walsgott Collection (lot 528) Spink Australia Sale 1 (lot 262 part) and Sale 5 (lot 225) and Dr. Alan Nicholson Collection, Sale 49 (lot 1657), lot includes photo of store of this period. The issuer is noted by Vort-Ronald (p.23). Notes were still being issued in 1927 in outback areas. It, as usual, is an issue by the local storekeeper but at Rankine River via Camooweal where James Kennedy lived in the 1890s. Kennedy was an hotel and storekeeper who issued notes payable at the Queensland National Bank, Burketown. This note reflects a socio-cultural period, the style of lettering, the decorative motifs along the border of the note all mirror the contemporary pre-occupation with the Art Deco style, which grew out of the Art Noveau movement. The same printer of the Espie notes of the 1918-9 era printed these notes showing a sharp contrast in change of style.

Ex Noble Sale 89, Lot 1910.

Side note: Ex Dr Arthur Andrews, Dr. G.H. Abbott and Edward Wills Collections and from D. Raymond circa 1947. A.W.H. Humphrey was the Police Magistrate given exclusive authority to grant a permit to remove more than one gallon of wines or spirits (rum) from any place in Hobart Town and district by command of His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, Government & General Orders, Government House, Hobart Town Saturday, 18th October 1817. Colour Sergeant Thomas McGuire of the 1/48th Regiment was the holder of a spirit retailing license. Boyle Thomas offered one gallon of rum as a reward for the return of a boat (HT Gazette No 35, June 25 1817). Thomas Boyle was sentenced to be transported to New South Wales on 31 July 1807 per the ship Guilford. He was one of eighty convicts on board the Ruby of Calcutta arriving Hobart Town 19 Feb 1812. McGuire was licensed to sell spirits at the Barracks only to the Military. Percy Marks recorded the signature as that of A.W.N. Thompson JP (JRAHS, Vol XXVI, 1940, P.511). Bromley, hand signed by Lt. Governor William Sorell, black on white, watermarked paper with crude Britannia with shield on waves in oval on side, with additional four horizontal lines, t*atty with pieces missing, fair, but extremely rare.*

Ex Noble Sale 107, Lot 2829.

Side note: Notes issued by the New South Wales Police Fund are well known (see W.J.Mira, The Note Issues of the Colonial Police Fund of New South Wales 1810-1824, 1979 [1990], but issues from Van Diemen's Land are only noted by Mira (Coinage and Currency in New South Wales 1788-1829 etc.), on p.58, but these had never previously been described and illustrated.

Edward Foord Bromley (1777-1836) was a naval surgeon who arrived in Australia as surgeon-superintendent in March 1816. In November 1818 the secretary of state appointed him Naval Officer at Hobart Town. He went back to England and returned to Hobart in February 1820 and took up the position of treasurer of the Police Fund at a salary of Â£60. He also became a magistrate and a foundation shareholder in the Bank of Van Diemen's Land. However he is remembered chiefly for a spectacular misappropriation of colonial funds which was finally discovered in 1824. Although Lieut-Governor Sorell approved his administration and his many friends supported him after his suspension, the evidence of the inquiry revealed incredible laxness and inefficiency. The degree of his personal guilt was never established and it seems likely that his convict clerk, Bartholomew Broughton, participated in the embezzlement. A varied career followed and he died in the Marine infirmary at Woolwich in England on 29 June 1836. Only two specimens of the Van Diemen's Land Police Fund notes are known to exist in private hands and these examples probably form part of his misappropriation of treasury funds. A most interesting note with a spectacular association with early Tasmania (Van Diemen's Land)

Terms & Conditions of sale

The following are our Terms of Sale. Please read them carefully. These terms are applicable to all online bidders & mail / email postal bidders in this auction.

Your submission of all bids in this auction constitutes your full acceptance of these 'Terms of Sale'.

1. This agreement is in regard to an online, public auction, NOT an approved sale. At the live Online Auctions, when an item is SOLD, a sold icon will appear beside it, at which point all sales are final. Any bid acknowledged & relied on by the automated system shall not be withdrawn. Bidding in this action in any way confirms that the bidder personally guarantees all payments & acknowledges & accepts the Terms & Conditions of Sale as set out herein.
   As the system is automated, there shall be no possible recourse in the case of any dispute, & all bids are final. The Auctioneer as presented by the Online bidding system includes Roxbury's Auction House 89 641 056 840 (hereinafter called 'the Auctioneer').

2. Auction payments must be made in full at the conclusion of the sale. Absolutely no lots will be released until payment in full has been made. Payments may be made in Cash at 31 Navigator Place Hendra, by Personal Cheques (by discretion of the Auctioneer & made out to Roxbury's Pty Ltd with copies of proper identification), or by bank transfer or major credit cards as stipulated. Successful bidders will be notified either by email via an auction receipt. All bidders accounts must be fully finalised within 14 days of the sale date.

3. A 27.5% buyer's premium will be added to the knock down price of each lot (including GST where applicable).

4. Unless otherwise specifically stated, each new bid shall be raised above the previous bid by such amount as is determined by the automated bidding system as set out by the Auctioneer. No party shall be allowed to retract his or her bid after acknowledgement by the Auction system.

5. The Auctioneer reserves the right to refuse any bid & to withdraw any goods from sale at any time, or to disclose any reserves or vendor information, without having to state any reason.

6. All online bidders must complete a valid registration, with any identification as required by the Auctioneer. All online bidders must accept the Terms & Conditions of Sale as set out here to be considered a valid bidder. Postal bidders must sign & accept the Terms & Conditions & return the form to the Auctioneer to be considered a valid bidder. All lots will remain the property of the owner / vendor until cleared payment is made in full. Only then will the title of ownership of the lots pass to the purchaser, irrespective of any terms or deferment of payment. Payment on approval dealer/trade accounts must be cleared & finalised within 28 days of the sale.

7. Except as otherwise provided by the state of federal law, no condition or warranty is given or implied by the Auctioneer in respect of any lot offered for sale via auction. As all lots are given for inspection prior to the commencement of sale, it shall be presumed that the goods have been inspected & that the purchaser accepts the goods are sold with all faults. All lots are sold as is, on the Caveat Emptor. No error of mis-description of any lot shall give cause for an invalidation of sale or an abatement of price. The Auctioneer shall not be held responsible for any such error, despite all care being taken. All lots are inspected & offered in good faith to the best of our determination to be genuine as described (except where so noted). No guarantee is undertaken with respect to refunds on this basis.

8. The Auctioneer shall not be liable for any description or mis-description given on any of the goods presented here for sale in any way. Any statement as to the description of goods is given as a statement of opinion only as represented to the Auctioneer & is not to be relied on as a representation of fact. While every effort is made, the Auctioneer gives no warranty that the quantities or any grading given with respect to the description of any lot as stated is correct. All images used are given as a guide only & are not guaranteed to be an accurate representation.

9. No lots purchased by a bidder may be returned, including those lots where the bidder is acting as an agent for another. There are no returns or refunds except for reasons of lack of authenticity (as stated in clause 7 & 8 above detailing liability). It is assumed that all intending bidders (including all postal & internet bidders) have obtained their own satisfaction & / or done due diligence on all lots before submitting any bids in any manner. All bids thus submitted are subject to the full terms & conditions of sale. Items purchased & submitted to third party grading immediately voids any & all further rights of return. The Auctioneer accepts no responsibility for any mistakes in any postal or phone bidding conducted.
   Late remittance of payments constitutes just cause for revocation of all return privileges. In the event that a bidder is acting as an agent for another party (and that agency has not been disclosed to the Auctioneer in writing 24 hours before the sales date) the bidder is deemed by the Auctioneer to be the final buyer in all respects & is fully responsible for all payments, fees & changes. In no event may any lot(s) be returned after twenty-one (21) days from the date of the auction. All sales are then final.

10. If any purchaser fails to comply with any of the conditions of sale outlined in this document or if any monies paid (in any way given on settlement of account for any goods is dishonoured or unfulfilled) then all monies which the purchaser has paid to the Auctioneer on account of the purchase shall then be forfeited absolutely to the vendor. The Auctioneer, acting as agent for the vendor, is at liberty to resell the lot(s) in any manner. Upon such terms & conditions as they may deem proper & / or to then sue the purchaser for any loss or resulting damages as set out below. Damages include all losses & expenses incurred by the vendor or the Auctioneer may sustain, resulting from any resale, storage, debt recovery, legal fees & / or court costs which shall then be covered from the purchaser as liquidated damages. The Auctioneer (acting on behalf of the vendor) in the event of such resale, is also entitled to the expenses as set out below.

    a) The total amount of any & all commissions & / or buyer's premiums applicable or any other fees & commissions lost as a result of the purchaser defaulting on the purchase.

    b) The full cost of advertising & all other expenses related to resale as deemed necessary, including recovery & legal fees, court costs, interest, storage costs & insurance charges.

    c) Any differential in price from the initial sale price to the final price achieved in resale of the items.

11. A service charge of 2% compound per month (or part thereof) will be added to overdue accounts (28 days after the date of Auction is the overdue period of all unpaid accounts). In any event the title of any lots sold will not pass to the purchaser until the full amount of the purchaser's auction account has been paid fully & remitted to the vendor, including any other services charges, storage or any other fees resulting from any late payments.

12. Estimates are given only as a guide & not given as starting points for bidding. Where the start price is disclosed, lots may sell for a price greater than this start price as determined by bidding. All bidding will be in increments from the start price as set out by IAG. All prices are in Australian Dollars.

13. Postage & Insurance: if a purchaser declines to pay the mandatory insurance charge applied to their account for cover during shipping / postage then they shall assume all responsibility for that item(s). Any possible loss or damage to that item(s) shall then be the purchaser's responsibility.

14. By accepting these Terms & Conditions & making a bid, the bidder guarantees that they have the funds or ability to pay for any & all items bid on (including any buyer's premiums, insurance & postage as required), within the stipulated times frames as set out above & as part of the Auction Terms & Conditions.

15. All images, text & information supplied in this catalogue remain the property of the Auctioneer & may not be used or transmitted in any way without prior written permission.

Notice to Buyers: Updated Conditions of Sale

Dear Roxbury's Customers,

The buyer's premium has been a topic of discussion among the owners of Australia's leading numismatic auction houses for some time. Roxbury's last increased its buyer's premium in 2012, nearly 15 years ago, moving from 17.5% to 20% plus GST (22%).

Since then, we have absorbed every rise in our operating costs without passing them on to our buyers.

The federal government's recent changes to credit card fees are the latest in a series of legislative measures that have made conditions increasingly difficult for small businesses to survive. In most Roxbury's sales, over 60% of auction invoices are paid by credit card. Simply removing credit card payment as an option would therefore dramatically affect the results achieved for our vendors.

With this in mind, we have made the decision to increase the buyer's premium to 25% plus GST (27.5%).

As the owner, I find this a difficult position to be in. I understand that many of our customers are facing the same pressures, and that this additional cost may affect how they take part in our sales. However, supporting the business, our employees and our vendors is just as important.

Our costs have multiplied several times over since the last increase in 2012, so while this change may feel significant, it is a modest step towards keeping the business balanced and resilient in the current economic climate.

Since acquiring Roxbury's in 2019, I have seen the business grow to almost ten times the size it was under previous ownership. That growth reflects a tremendous amount of work, and it shows in the prices achieved at auction, the level of buyer participation in our sales, our professionalism across every aspect of the business, and the outstanding results we deliver for our vendors.

Every sale involves an ongoing effort to improve the detail, accuracy and presentation of each lot; to secure the best possible marketing coverage across a range of media and platforms; to raise the quality of our auction catalogues; and to strengthen our online presence in Australia and overseas. This work reaches new audiences with each sale and supports the increasingly diverse range and exceptional quality of material we offer.

All of this has been achieved at additional cost, without any increase to the buyer's premium until now.

I hope our customers will understand that this is a necessary step to secure the long-term future of Roxbury's as Australia's most respected, best performing and most trusted numismatic marketplace, and to continue supporting the hobby we all share.

Warm regards,

Scott Waterman
